To everything there is a season and a time to every purpose under the sun . . .

Not all at once, nor for the same purpose,
nor in the same manner,
nor with the same intensity,
but for everybody and everything there is a season . . .

It's there in the endless succession of minutes and hours . . .
of daybreak and sundown . . . of weekends and summers . . .
It's there in the myriad activities of a composite highschool, in the constant interaction with friends and colleagues, with books and laboratories, with the world and its Creator.

A time to be born and a time to die . . . a time to weep
and a time to laugh;
a time to mourn and a time to dance . . . a time to get and a time to lose, a time to keep and a time to cast away.

Laughter and games, competition in the academics and athletics, research, analysis and synthesis, testing, examining, inquiring, reflecting . . . each has its place. So has introspection, self-evaluation, being alone, and alive,
being free,
finding oneself . . . and others.

There is excitement in the ebb and flow of season . . . They bring hope and relief — hope for a better future and more adequate relationships, relief from the frustrations and failures of the present . . .

It's possible to miss the seasons and their stimulating contribution to life . . . it's possible to grow up too fast, to isolate oneself from others, to avoid involvement or commitment . . . it's possible to develop a pessimistic syndrome and an apathetic out that linger for a long time to come . . . it's possible to be shortchanged by niggardly relationships with people and institutions.

A time to rend, and a time to sew, a time to keep silence and a time to speak . . .
A time to love and a time to hate,
a time of war and a time of peace . . . —the Bible

Life measures out its share of pleasant and sad moments — the trick is to embrace and prolong the good times and to minimize and cope with the negative.
But most important . . . Be there for it all. You'll be a richer, fuller, happier person for the experience . . . read on and you'll find an uninhibited celebration of fun and seasons on the banks of the North Saskatchewan at McNally.

Meeting new friends . . .

posing for pictures . . .

and room registration starts another year for McNally.

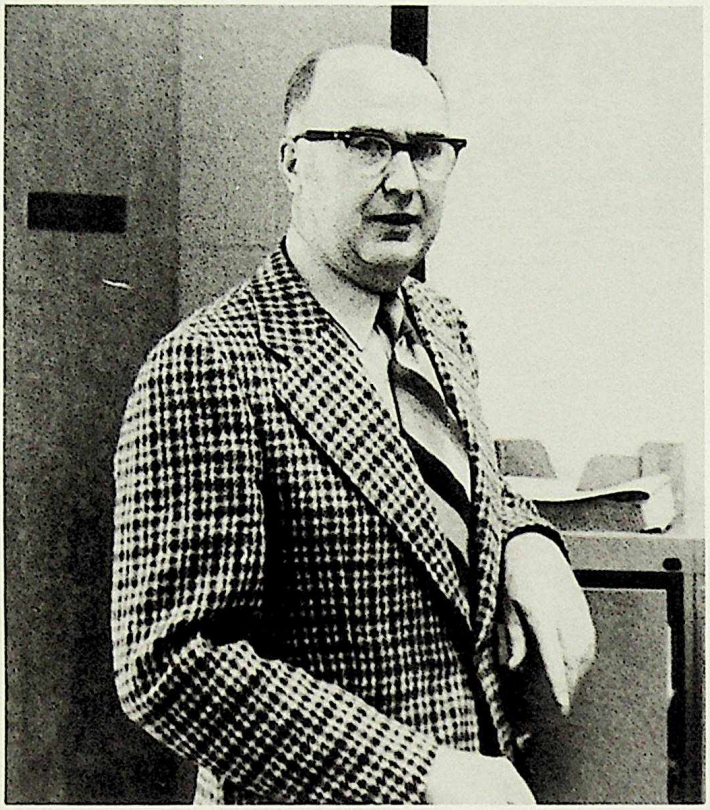
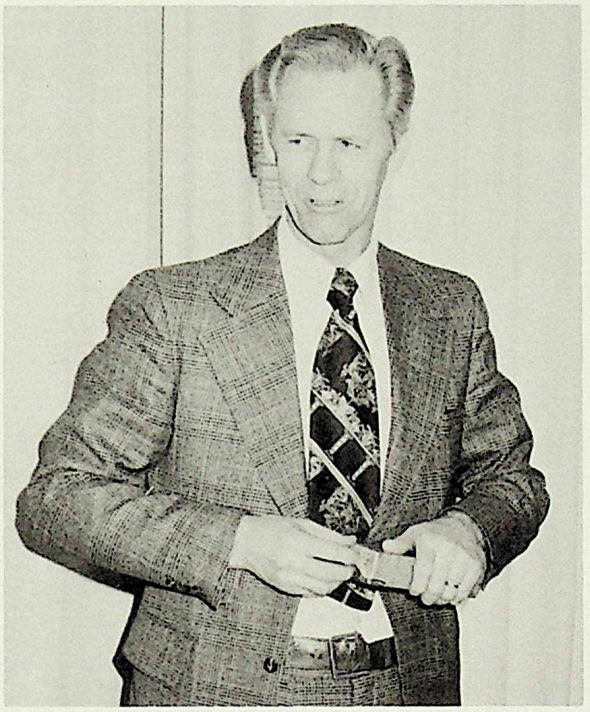
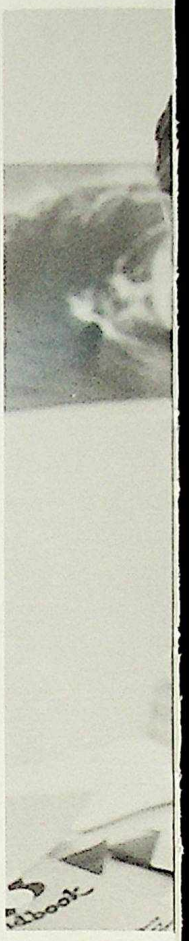
ADMINISTRATION & GUIDANCE







PRINCIPAL THOUGHTS

The school year is rapidly drawing to a close and by the time this page is read, the year will have quietly slipped into history. Even now, I am certain that all of us will look back on school-year 1975-76 as a notable milestone in our lives, an eventful and satisfying experience for each of us that will evoke many memories which are faithfully reproduced in this yearbook.

From my vantage point, a yearbook highlights, very dramatically, the learning that takes place in many ways — and this is what school is all about. Too often we are inclined to equate learning with whatever goes on in the classroom and with the subject matter that may be absorbed by a student. In matter of fact, this is but one facet of the learning process whether we recognize it or not; and perhaps the lessons we learn best, and those which have the most lasting effect on our lives, are those experienced outside of a classroom. The pages of this yearbook are surely living examples of the many learning activities of this sort that are experienced at McNally.

"To everything there is a season" and everyone, whether student or teacher, who involves himself in school activity, donates some small part of himself to that season. To all who have participated, I take this opportunity to say thank-you for making this year a good one. To all those who have spent three, and perhaps four, fruitful years at McNally, be assured that your contribution to the life of your school community are fondly remembered and recorded here, in the pages of this book.

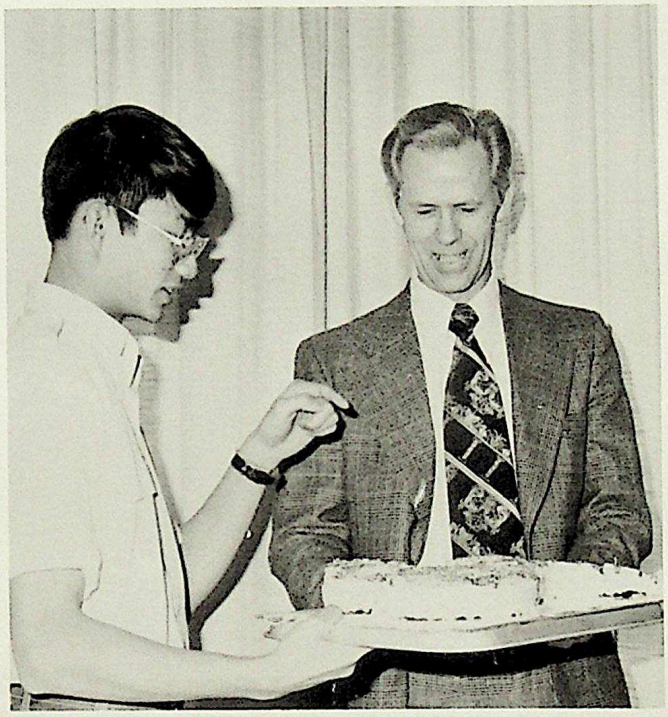
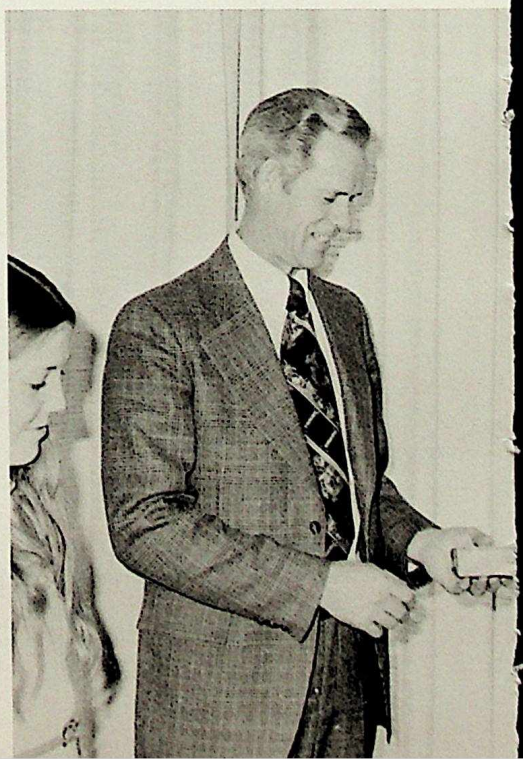
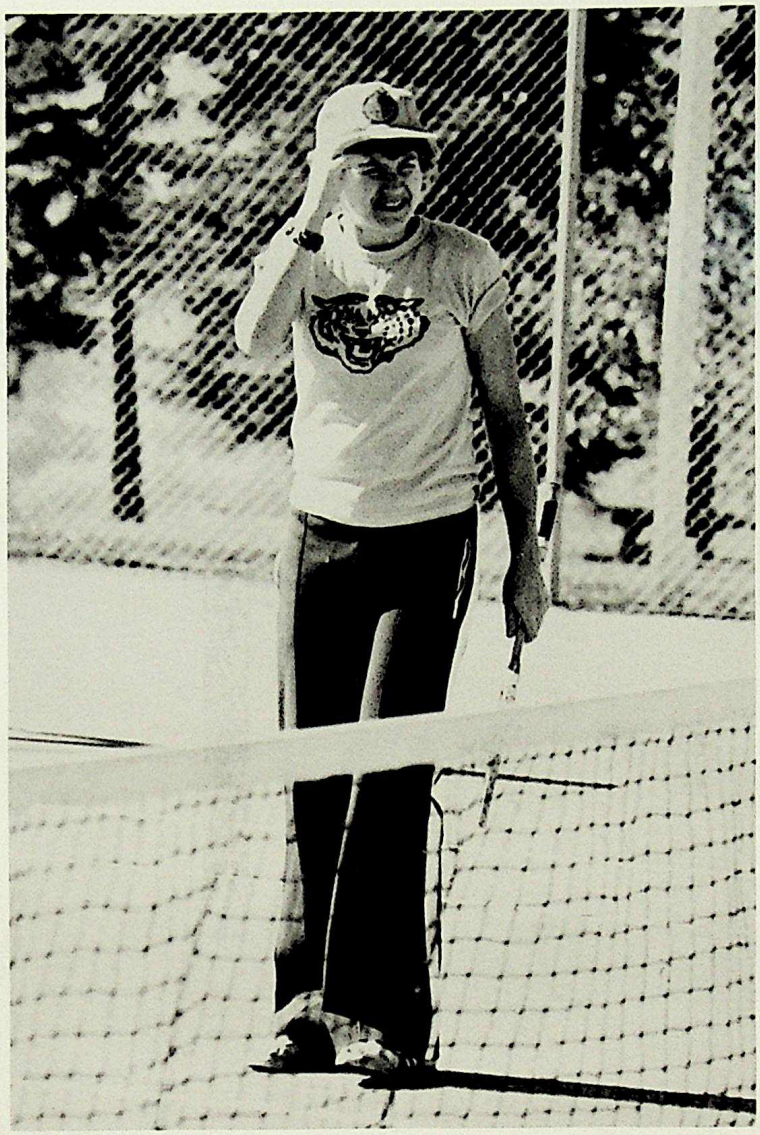
A LAST FAREWELL . . . SIR, . . . MR. FAIRBANKS . . . THE SCHOOL WILL MISS YOU . . .

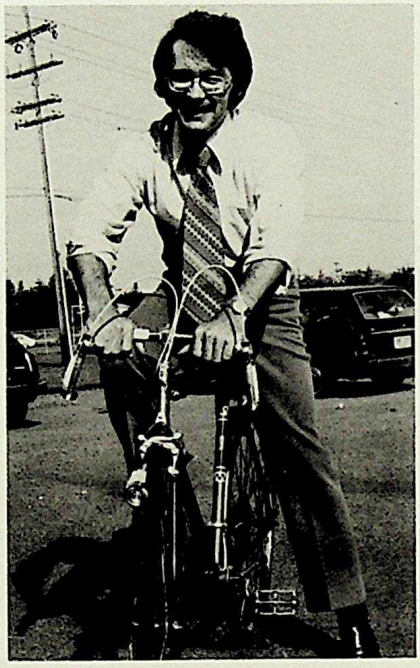


The yearbook staff, on behalf of the students at McNally, would like to extend our best wishes to Mr. Fairbanks. He has given this school many years of service and in March of this year he has left and gone to Jasper Place. The Foods 30 students presented him with a "Tiger Cake" and the Senior Class Council with a commerative pen. Good Luck, Mr. Fairbanks, and thank you for your many years of service with us here at McNally.



THE STAFF AT PLAY





The frosh this year were presented with an interesting question: Are teachers human? Well yes they are. They like to talk, play cards, putter around and clown — in short they like to be themselves. Their motto: "You don't have to be crazy to work here, but it sure helps." Clockwise from the top. Mr. Toplensky tells the time that he . . . (I'm sure you've all heard it before). Mrs. Shapka sends another ball over the fence. Mr. Rodatz plays the guitar (No offence intended) at the Christmas Lit. Mrs. Phannmuller and Mr. Dahl plan a french seizure of the Prairie Provinces.

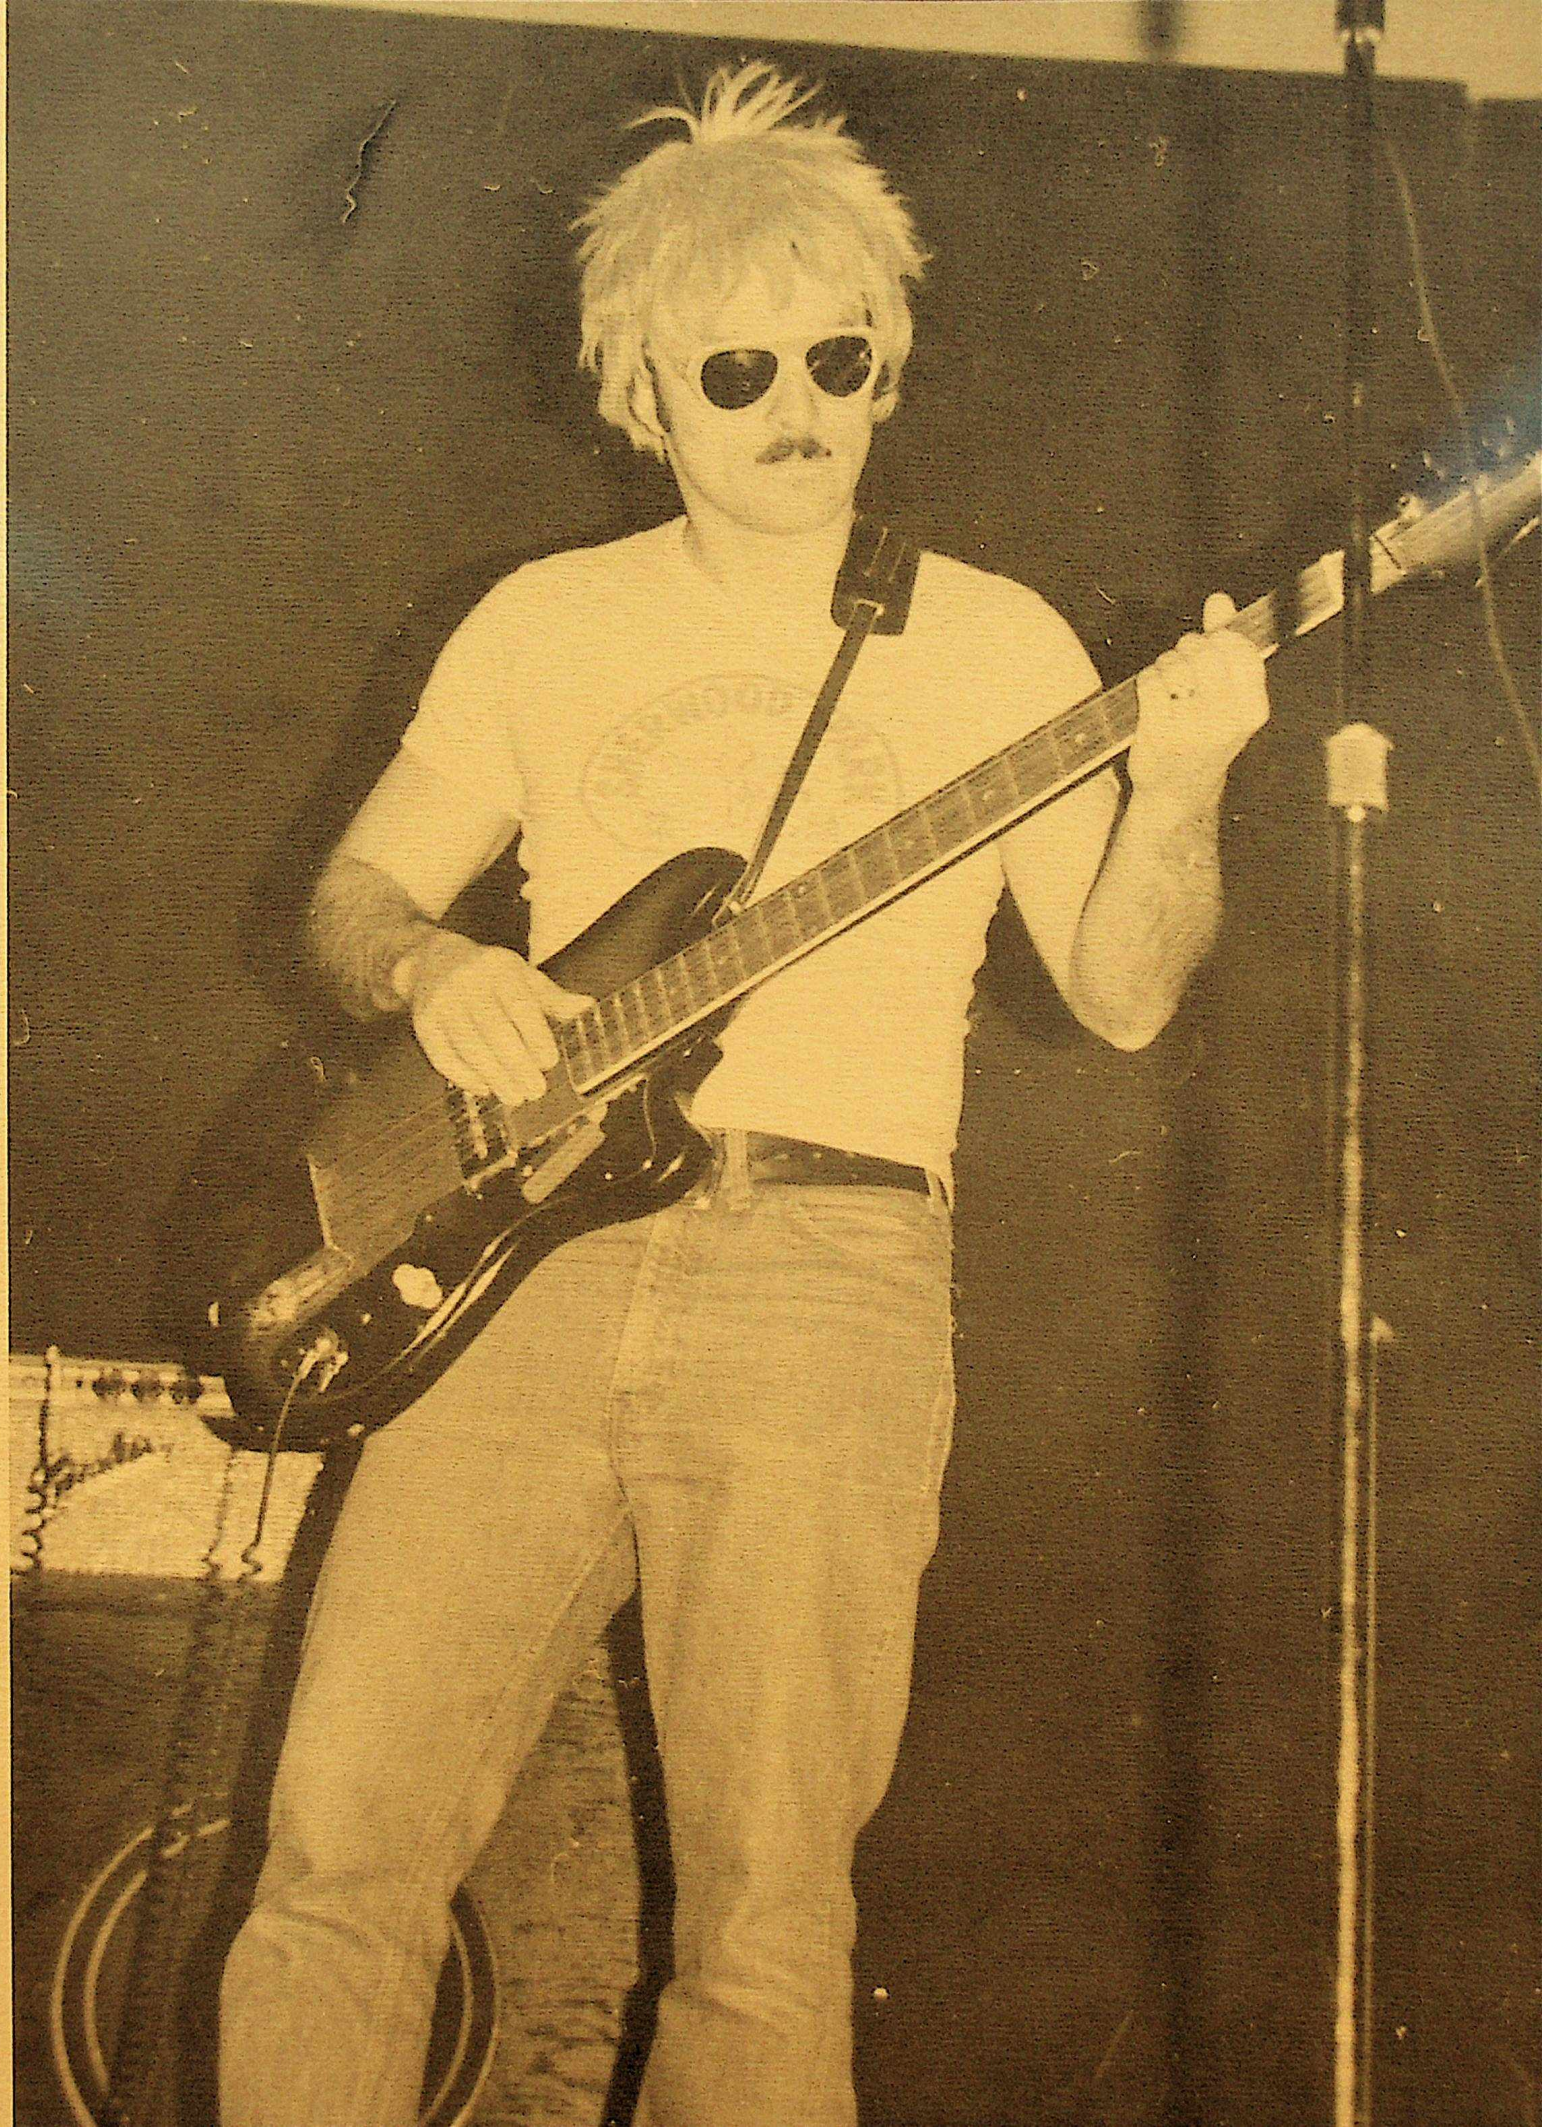


PHOTO THEME

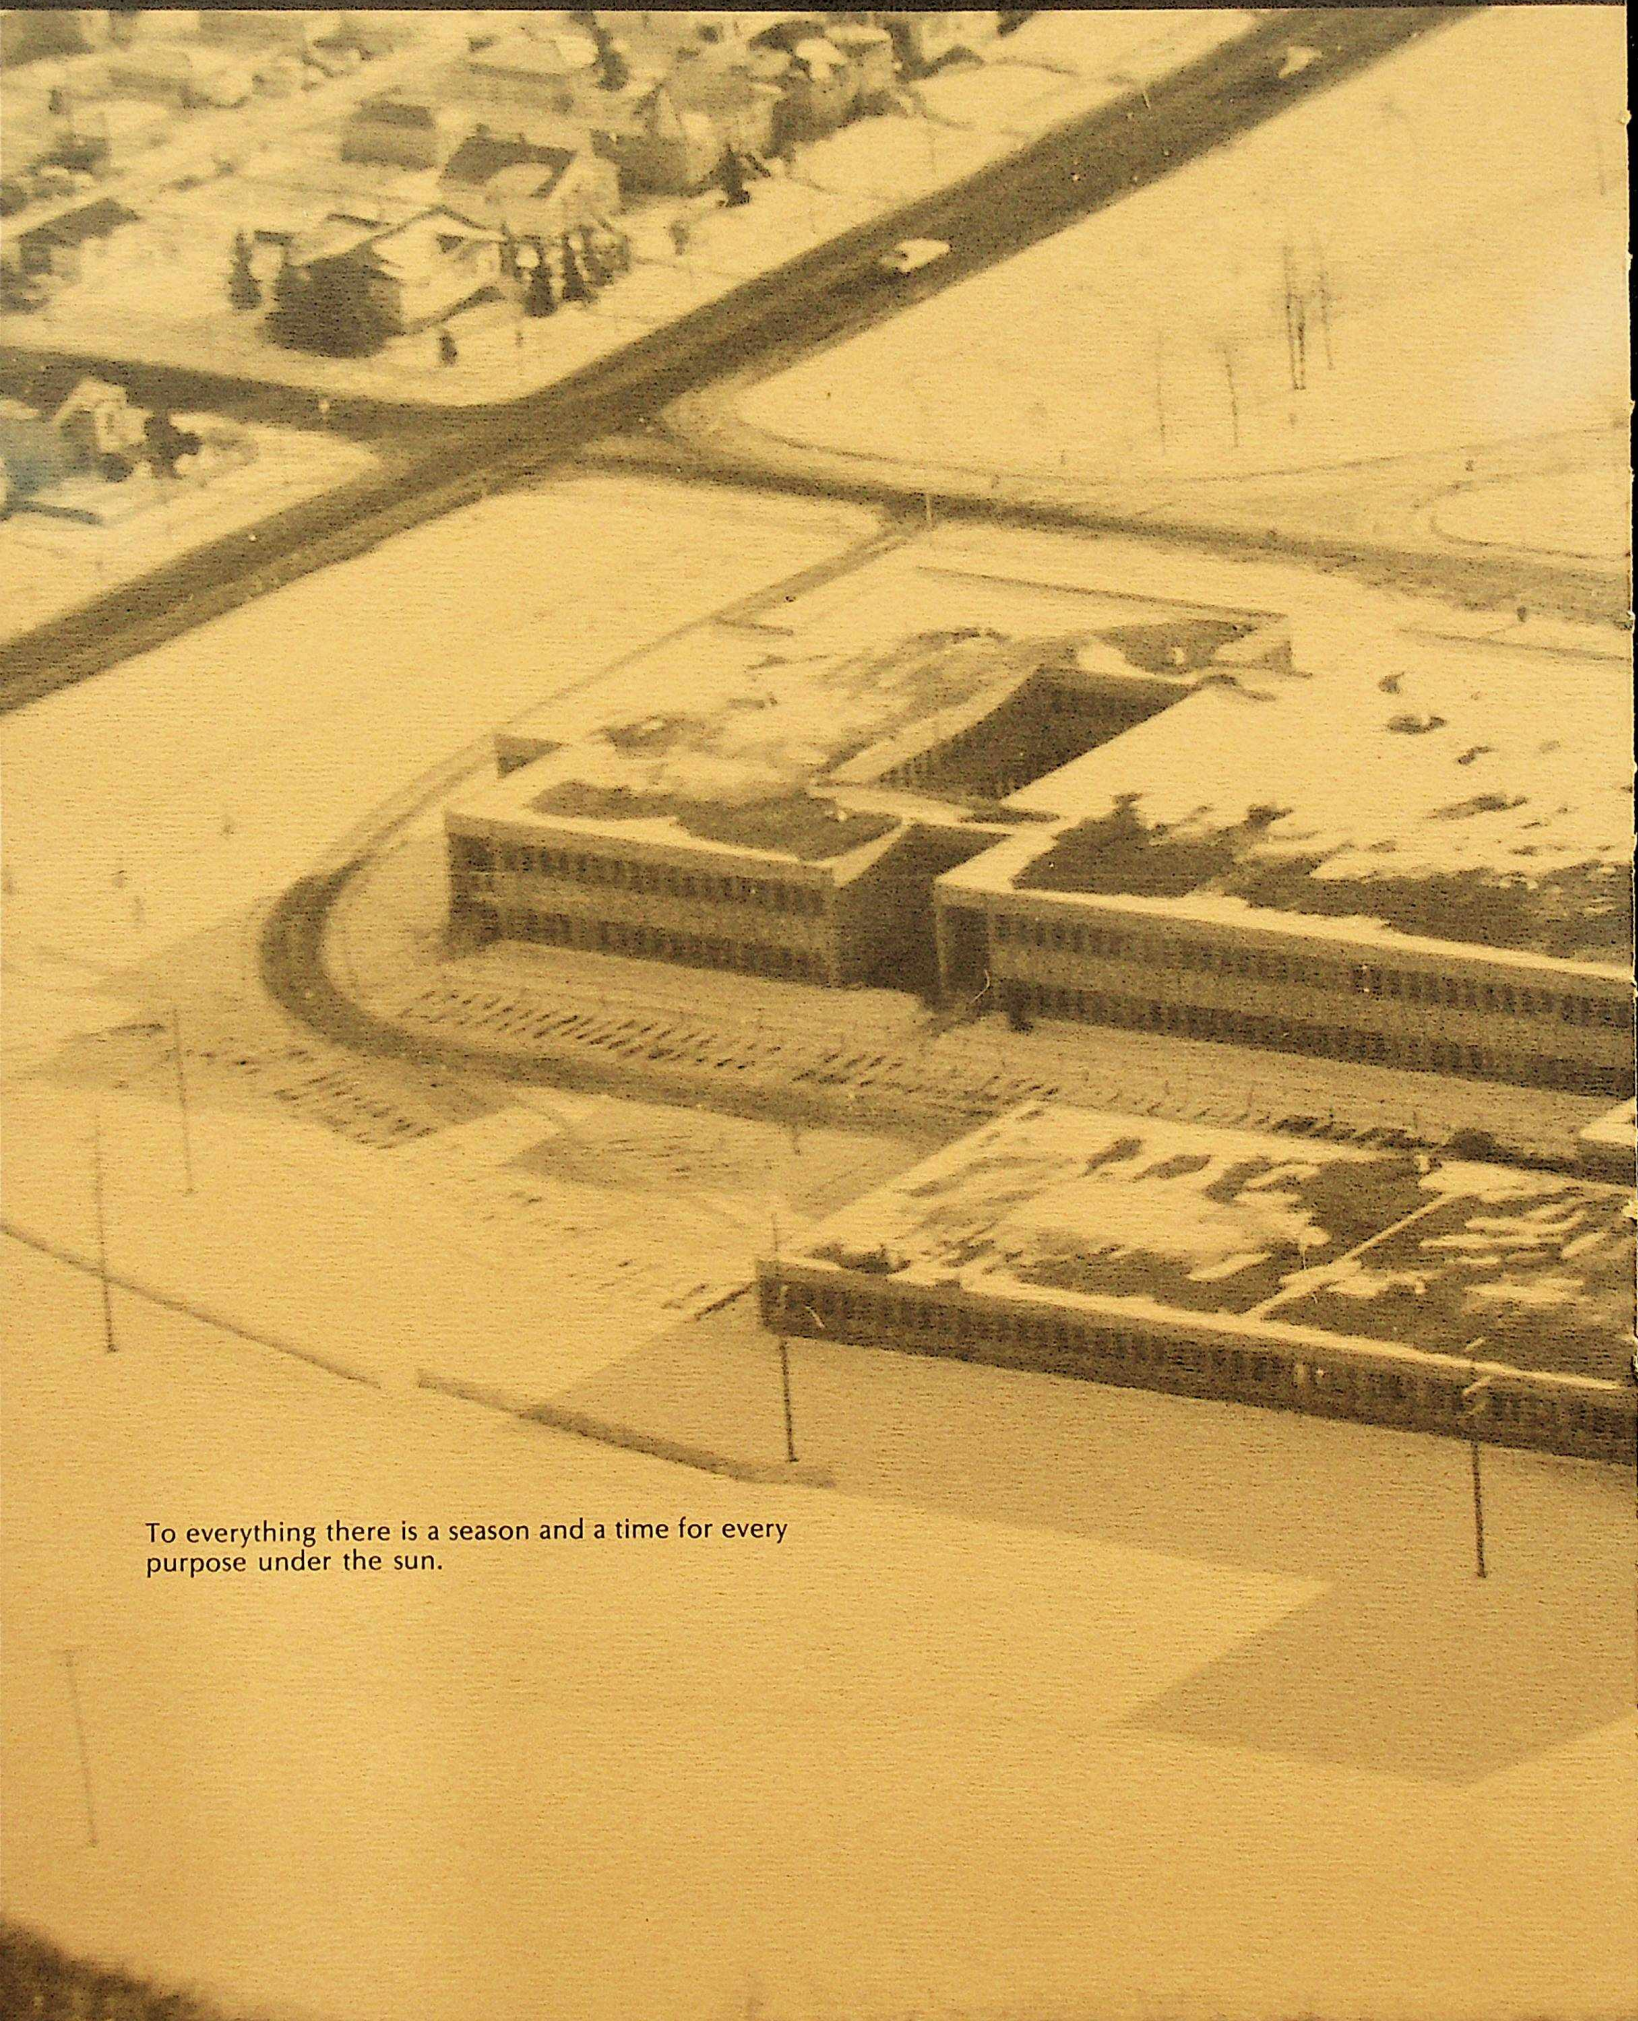
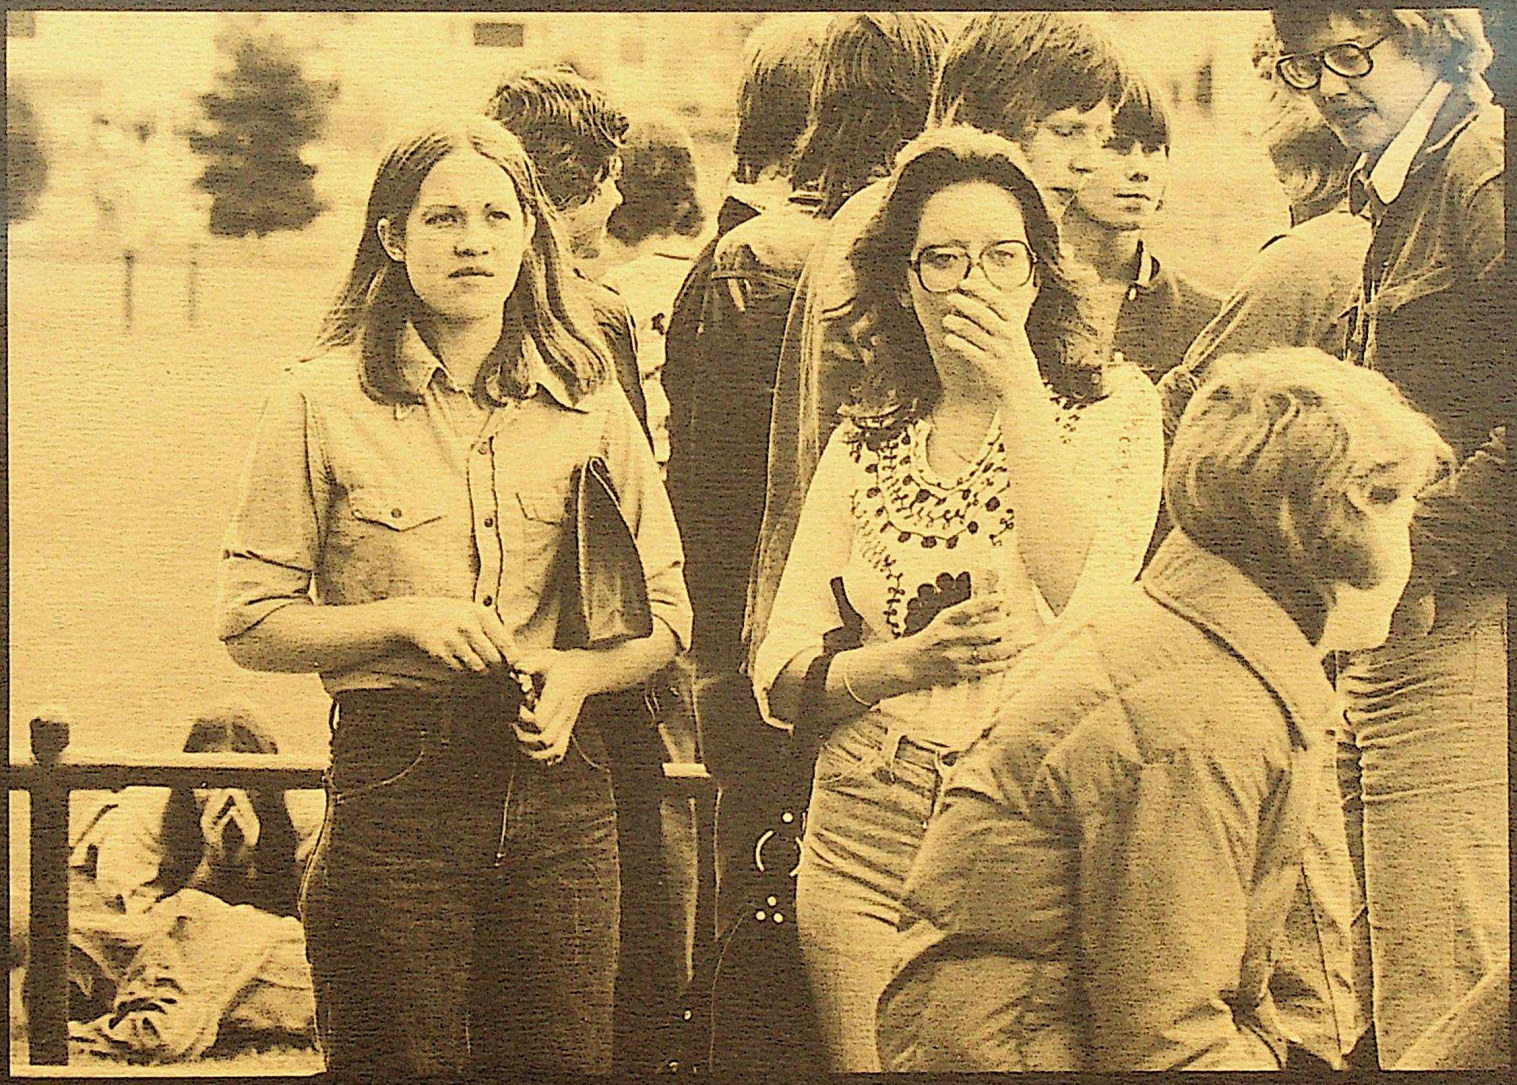
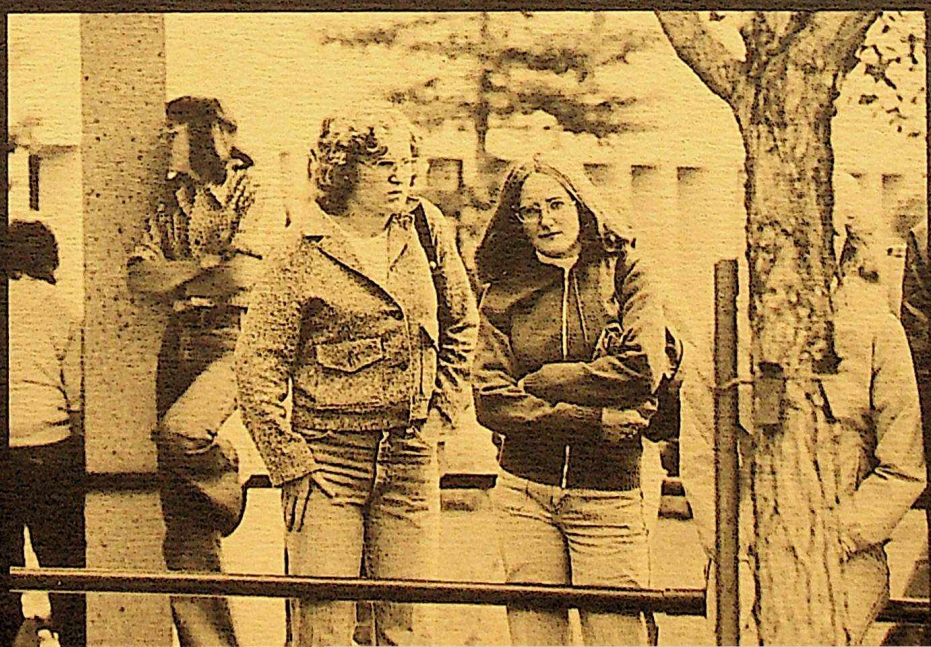
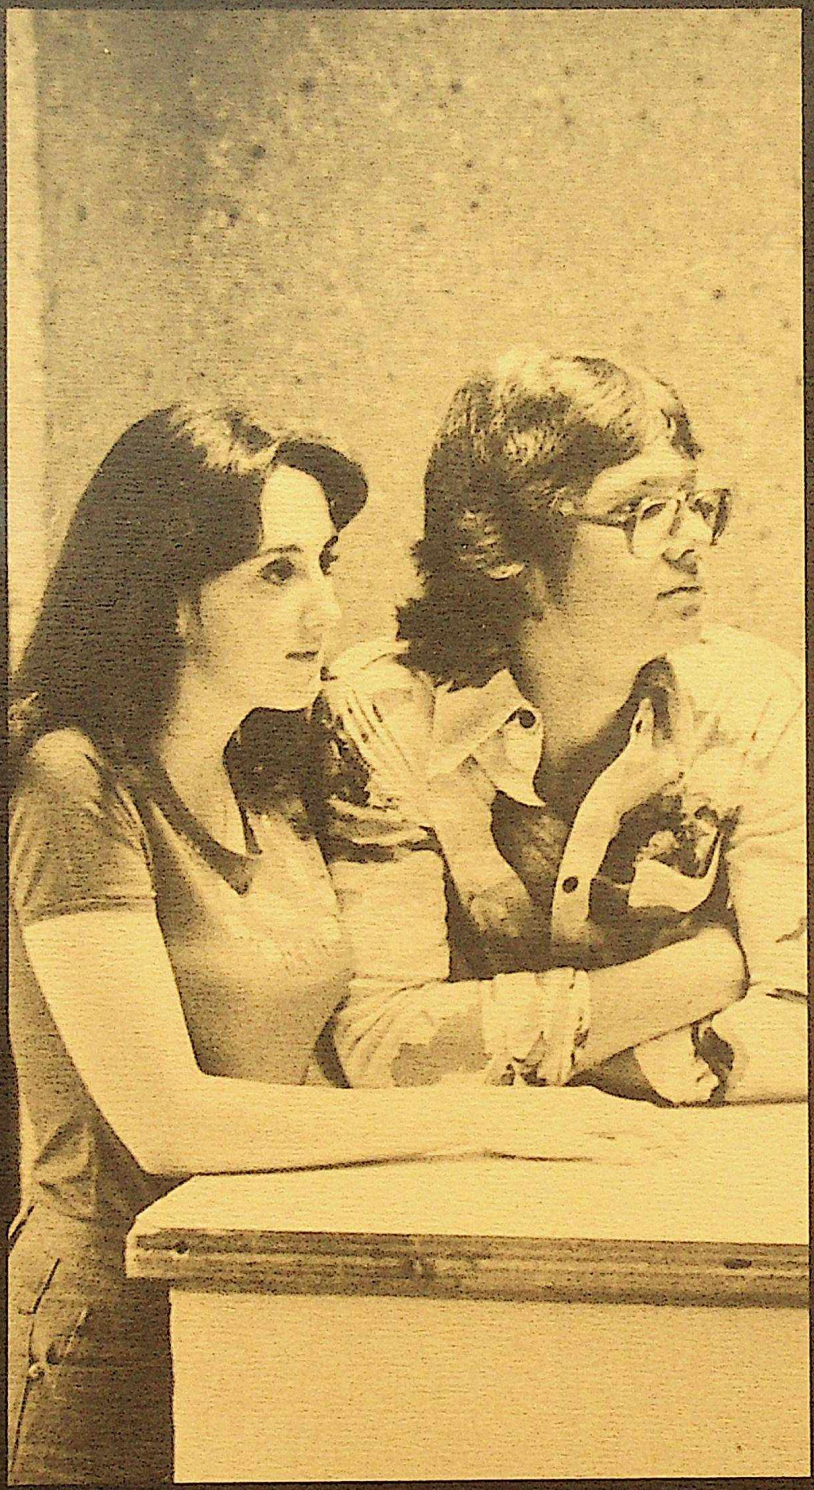


To everything there is a season and a time for every purpose under the sun.







Another school year at McNally is here
And we find
A season of expectation

It marks an end
But also a beginning . . .
A season of expectation

Throughout the year each of us has worked hard . . .
but, not without taking time to absorb nature to its fullest extent.

Seasons aren't necessarily confined to Spring, Summer, Fall, and Winter.
For us the year has been A season for being and doing

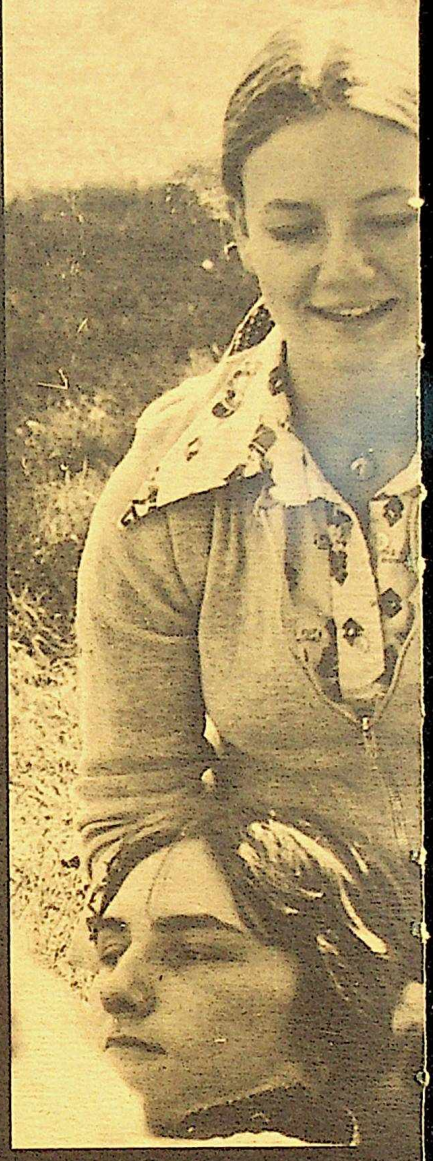
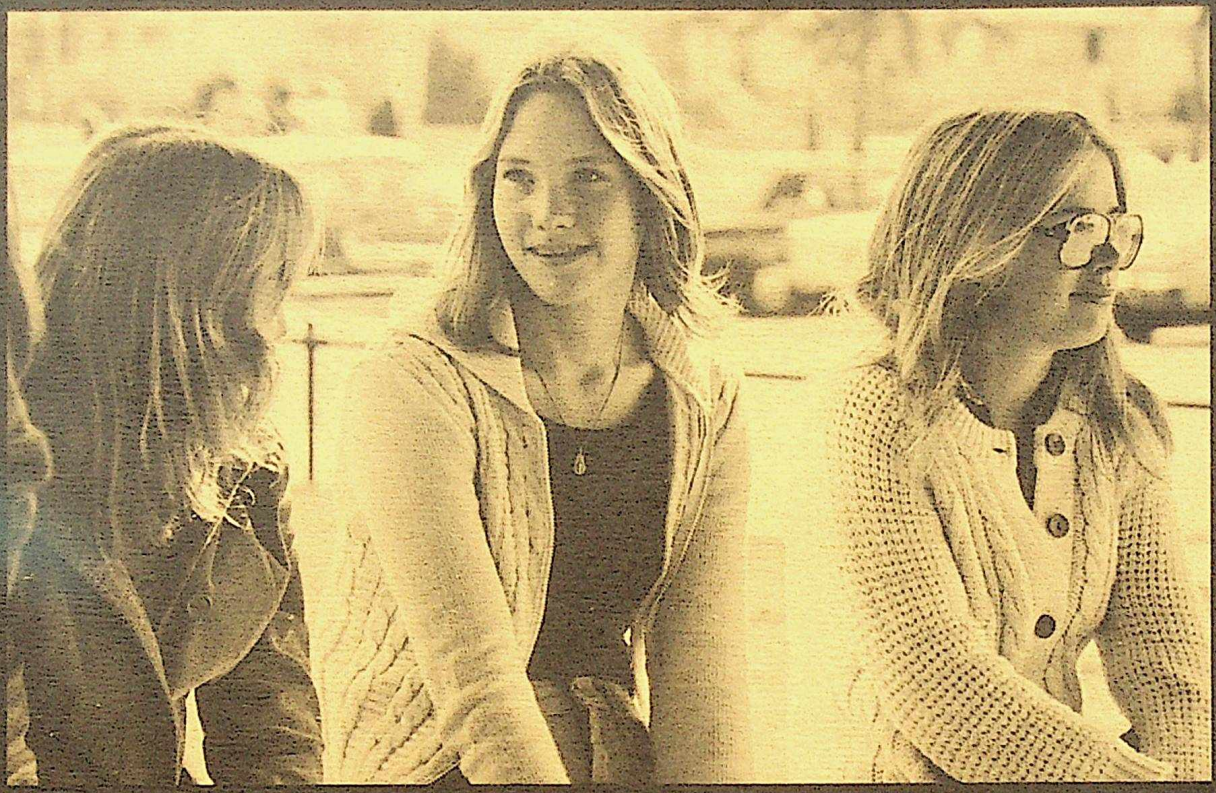
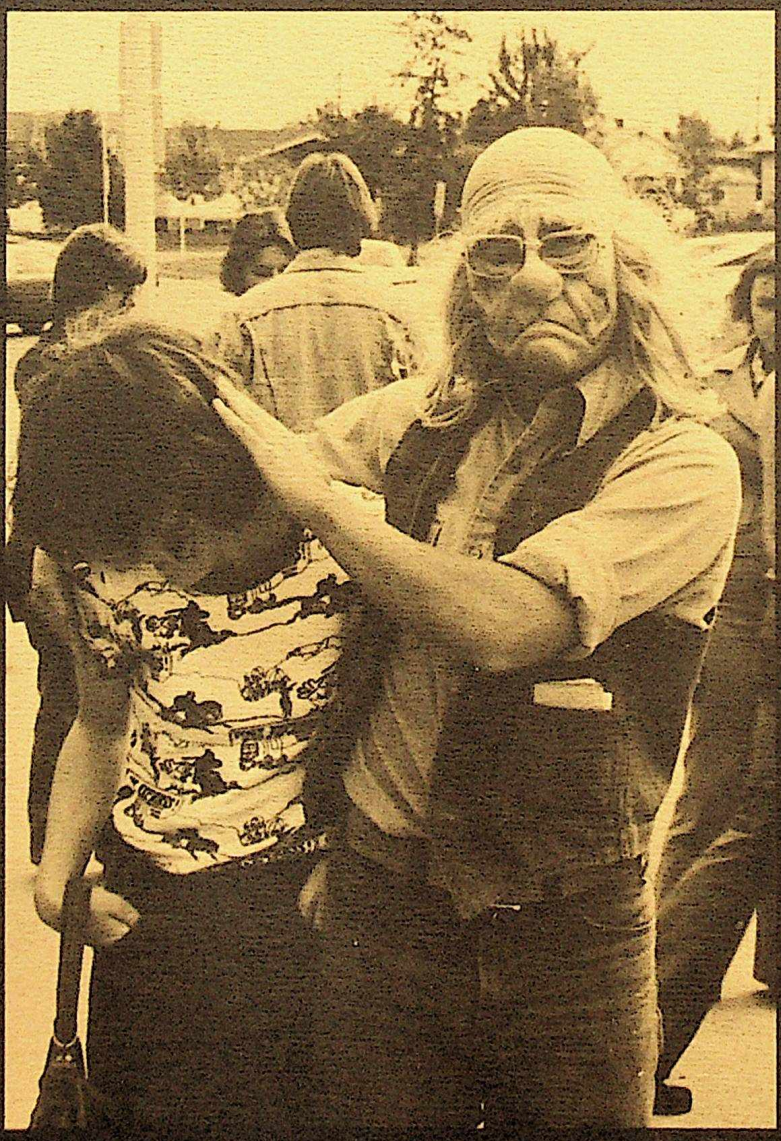
There is a time for action

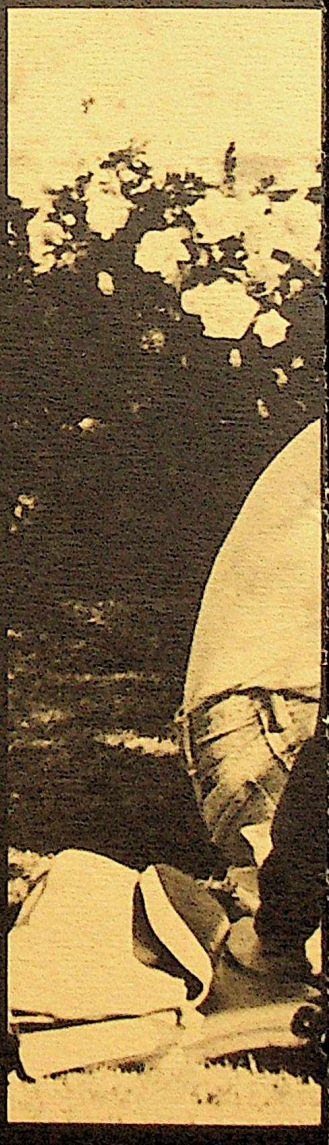


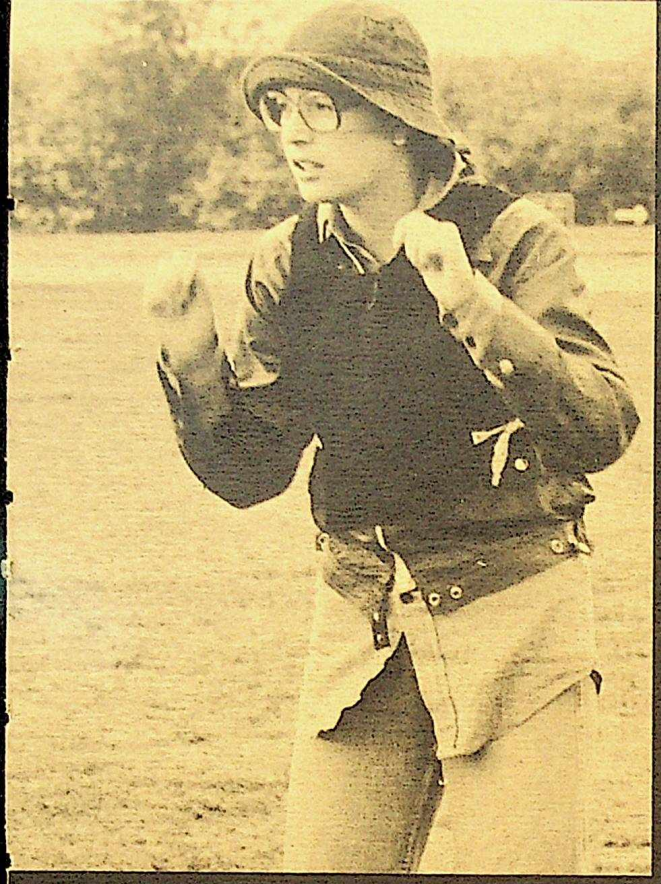
And a time for relaxation

Our memories of McNally —
The laughter and good times
Are of a happy season

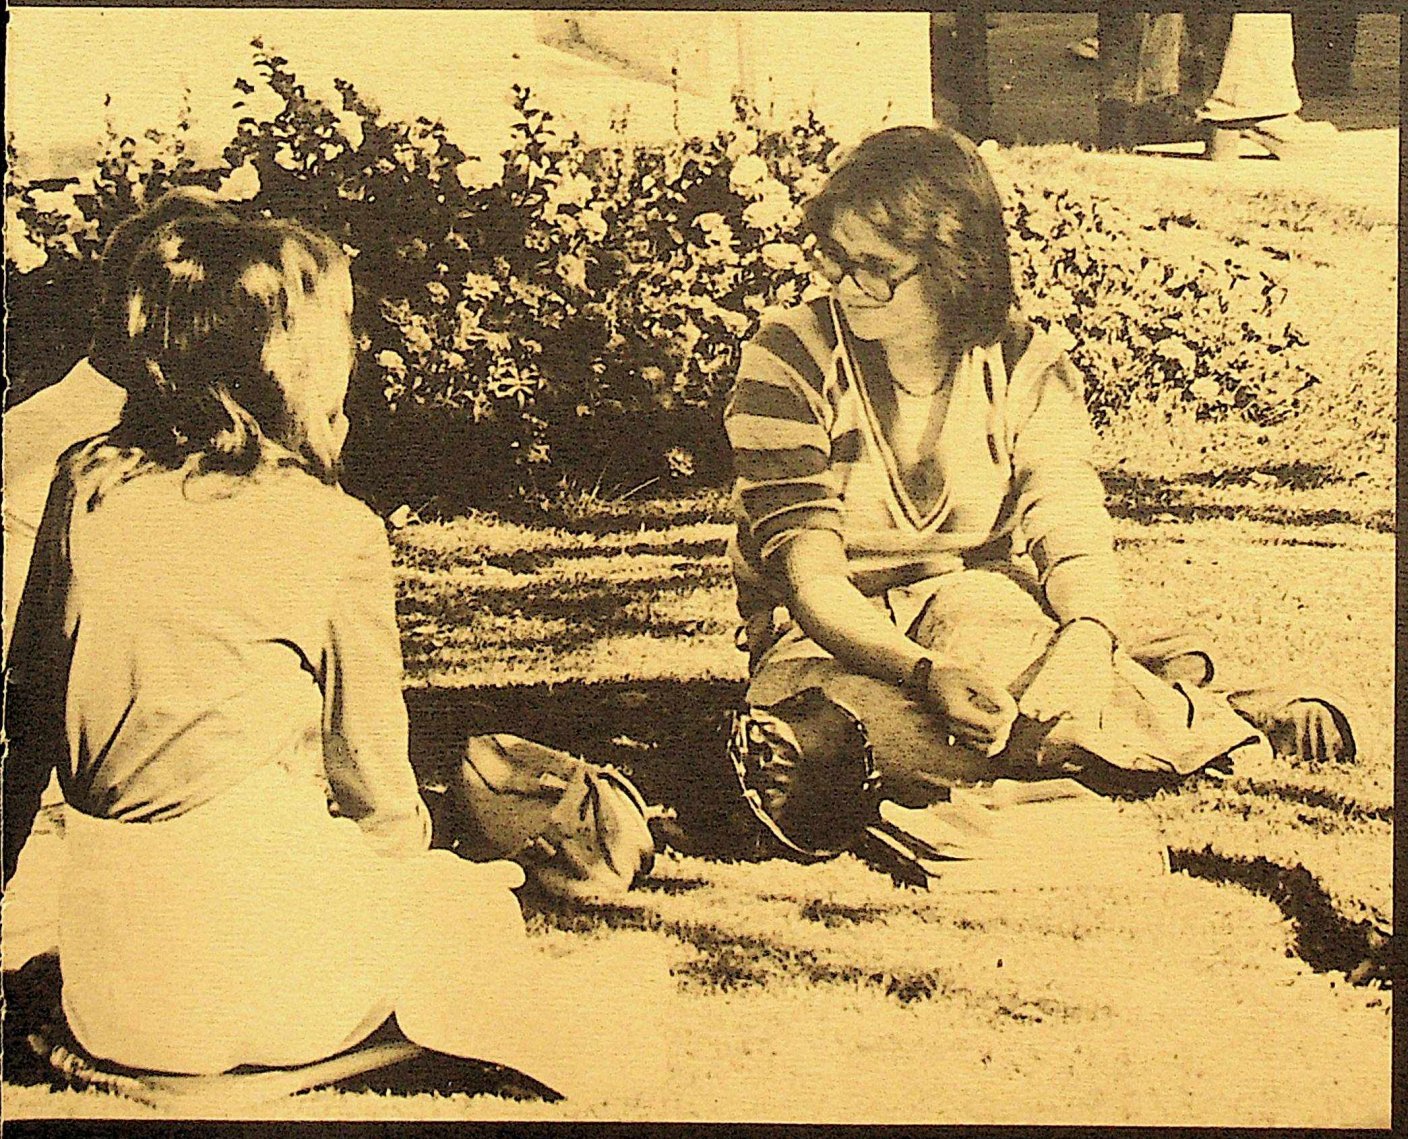








A season for sharing
Our ideas . . . Our goals . . . Our knowledge



We remember
The times alone or with friends

It's been A season of experiences —
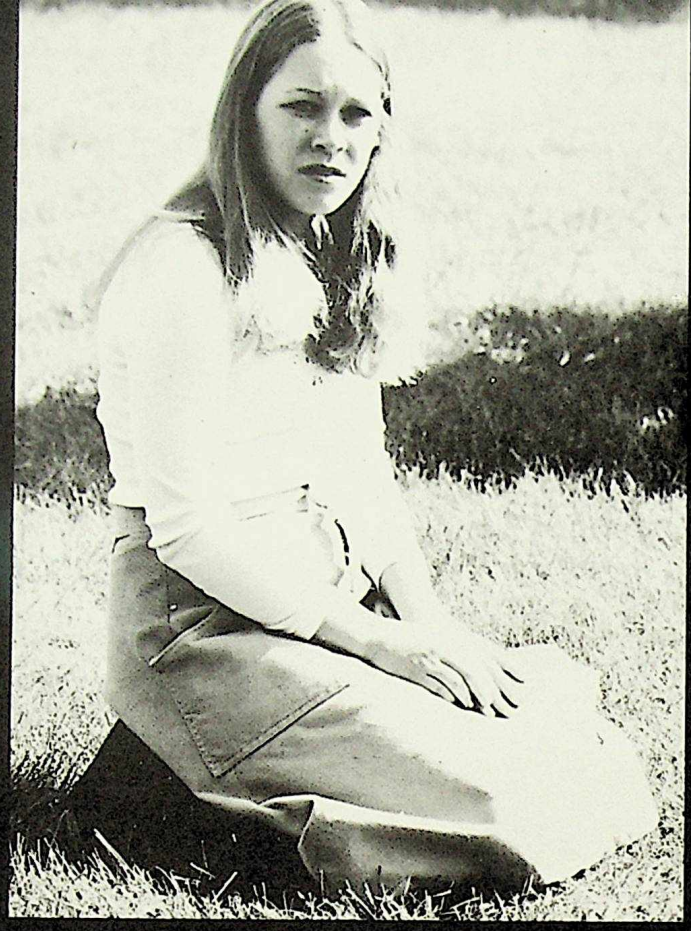
Rich . . . warm . . . and mind-bending



Times . . . Seasons . . . Memories
The year is over
It is a time for Peace

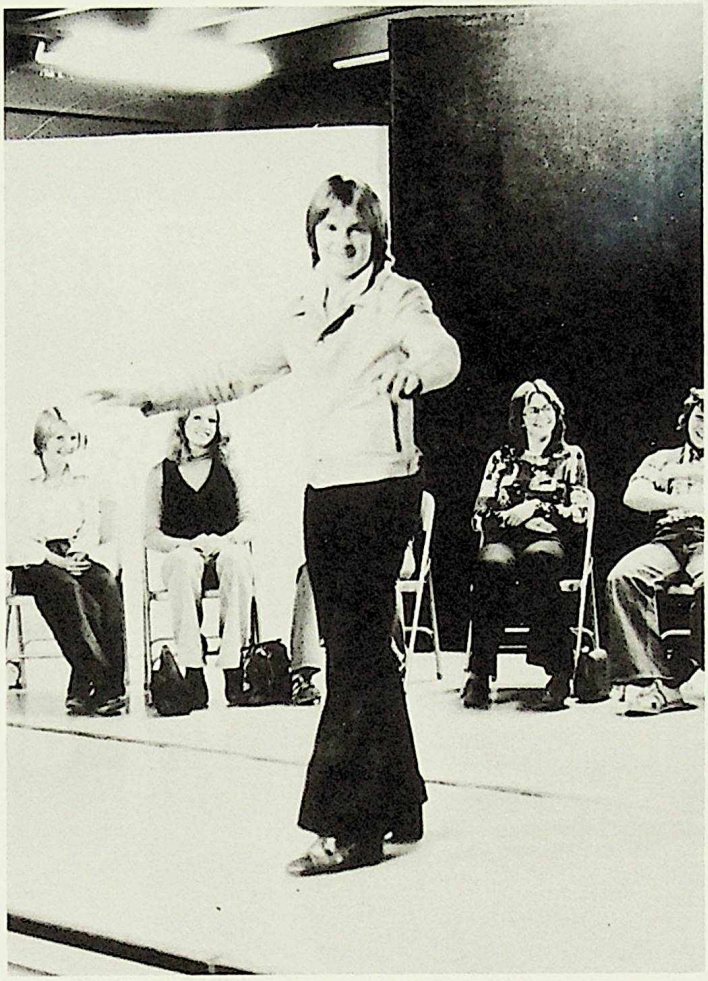
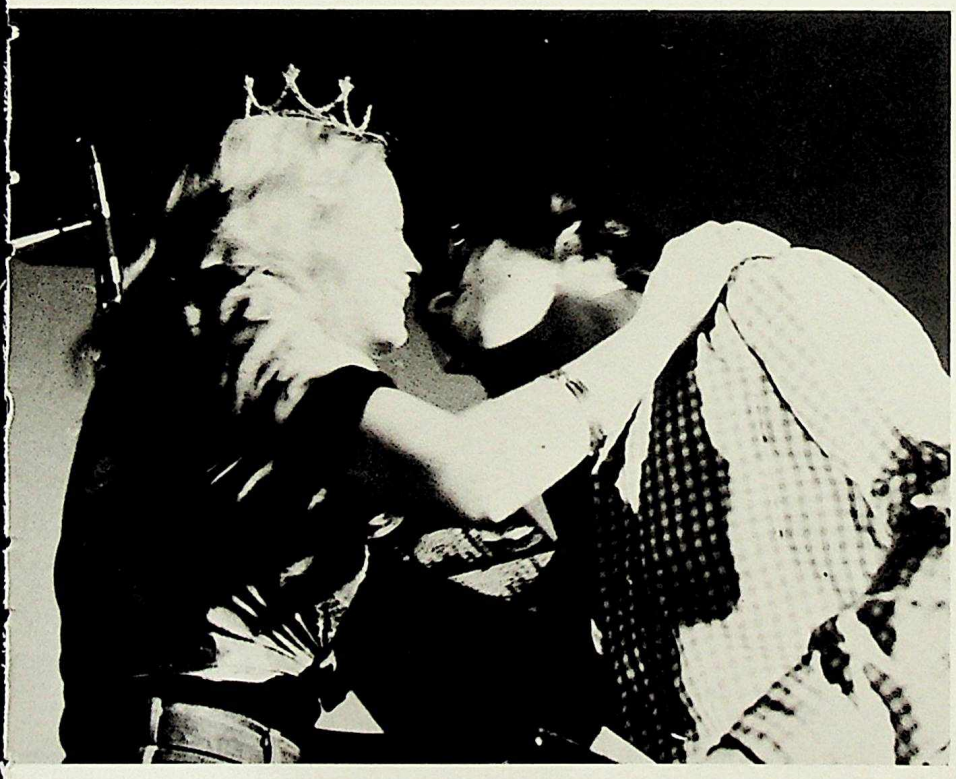
The grad council is one of the more fervent committees around the school. In addition to coordinating the graduation activities, it sponsored a tea and bake sale in conjunction with open house. For alumni night the council decorated the gym and served refreshments in the small gym.

This year's grad theme is "The times of your life." The valedictorian is Tom MacLean and the guest speaker is Mr. Herb Goertz. It all happens at the MacDonald Hotel on June 6, and that will be some time to remember.

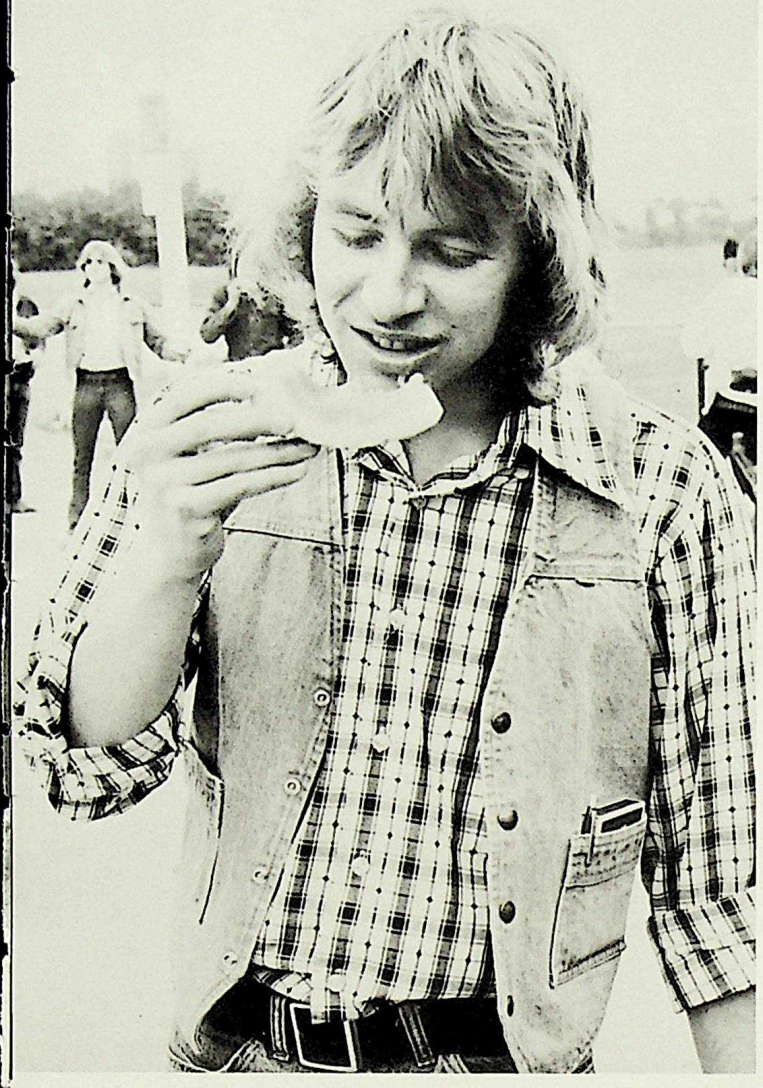
ACTIVITIES



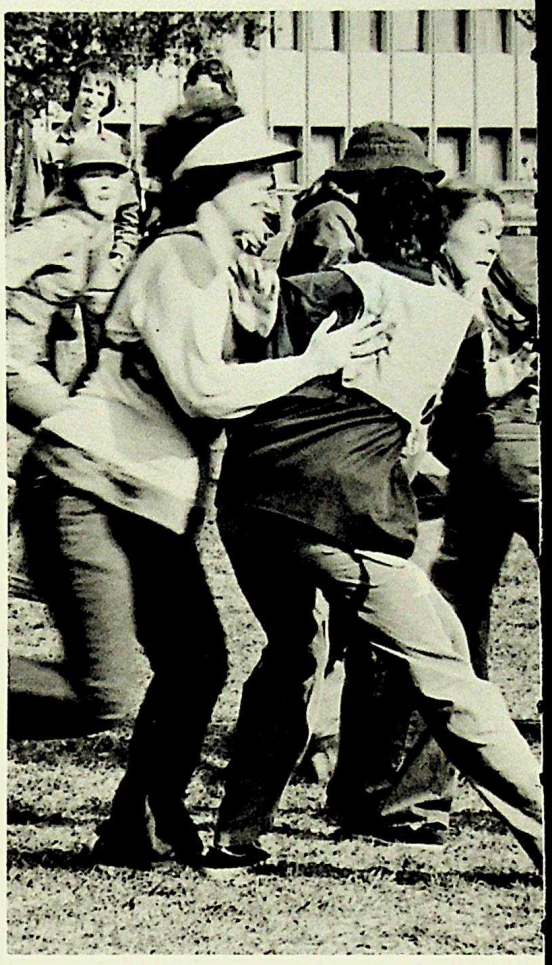


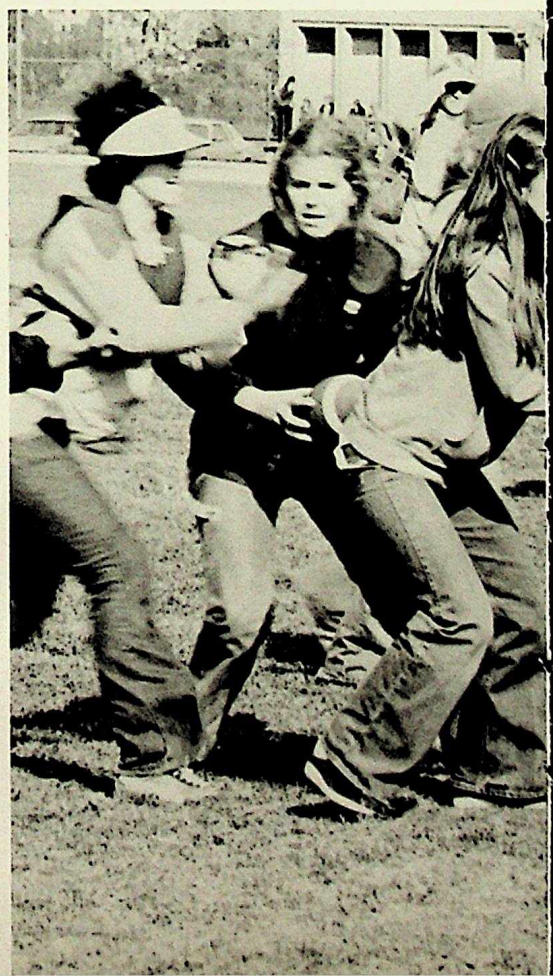
Our frosh were welcomed in true McNally fashion. After attempts in book balancing and speech making, Don Lupil and Joanne Fowler were chosen as frosh King and Queen. A dance followed that night.

Watermelon Seed Spitting Contest



To spit or not to spit? That is the question. Some McNallyites answered "yes" as they turned out to the Watermelon Seed Spitting Contest. Their purpose — self gratification? To see how far they could spit? Who knows, and who really cares since everyone had a fun time.





Powder Puff Football

Shoulders smashing,
Bones creaking,
Clothes ripping,
and people screaming!!

That's what it's all about.
The female in its most VIOLENT form.

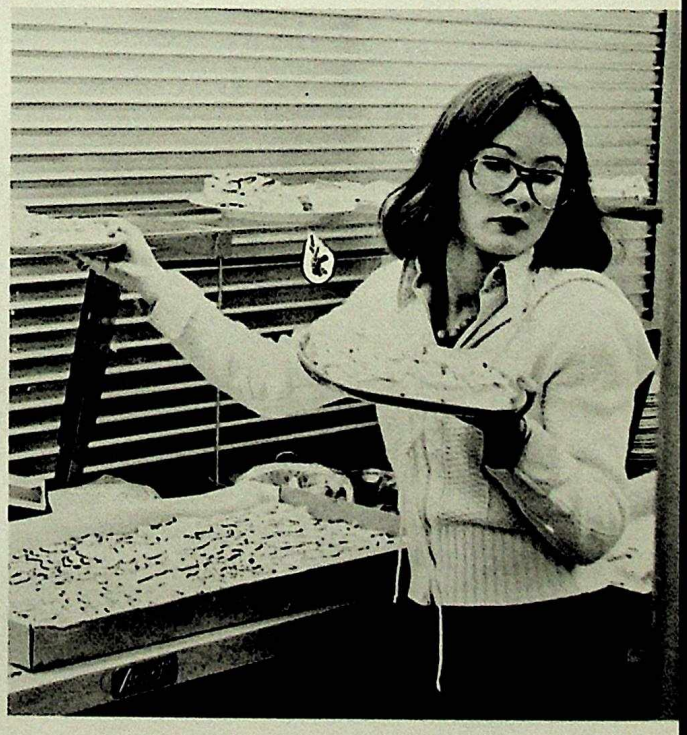
And that's one form of contact sport in which some of the boys wanted to enlist . . .

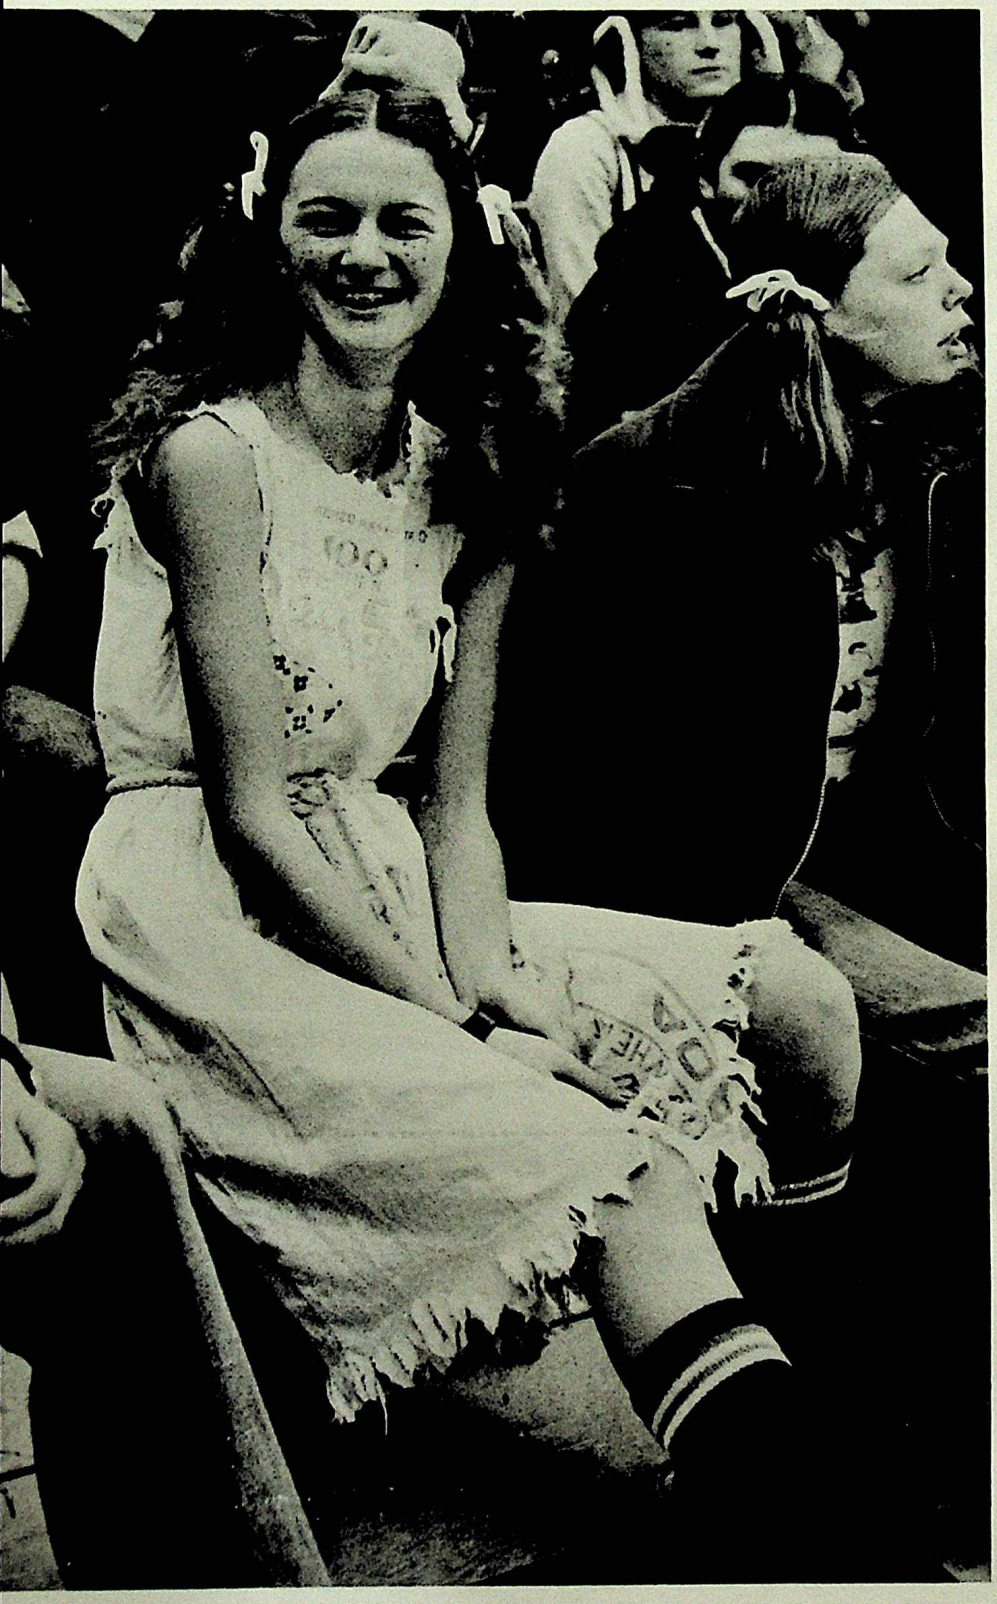
Not this time fellows!!

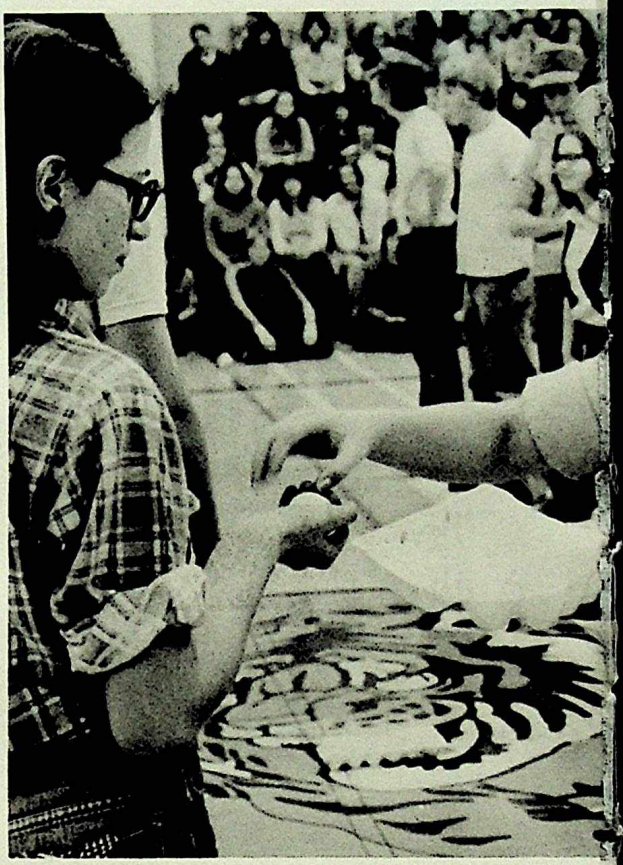
Grad Tea & Bake Sale

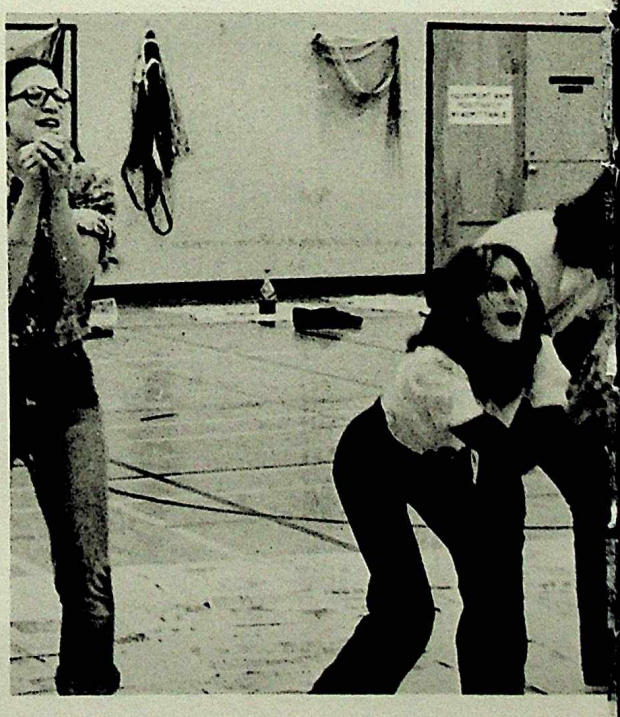
The Grad tea and bake sale was a tremendous success as it provided a sizeable addition to the grad fund. Students and parents were provided with good food and entertainment.



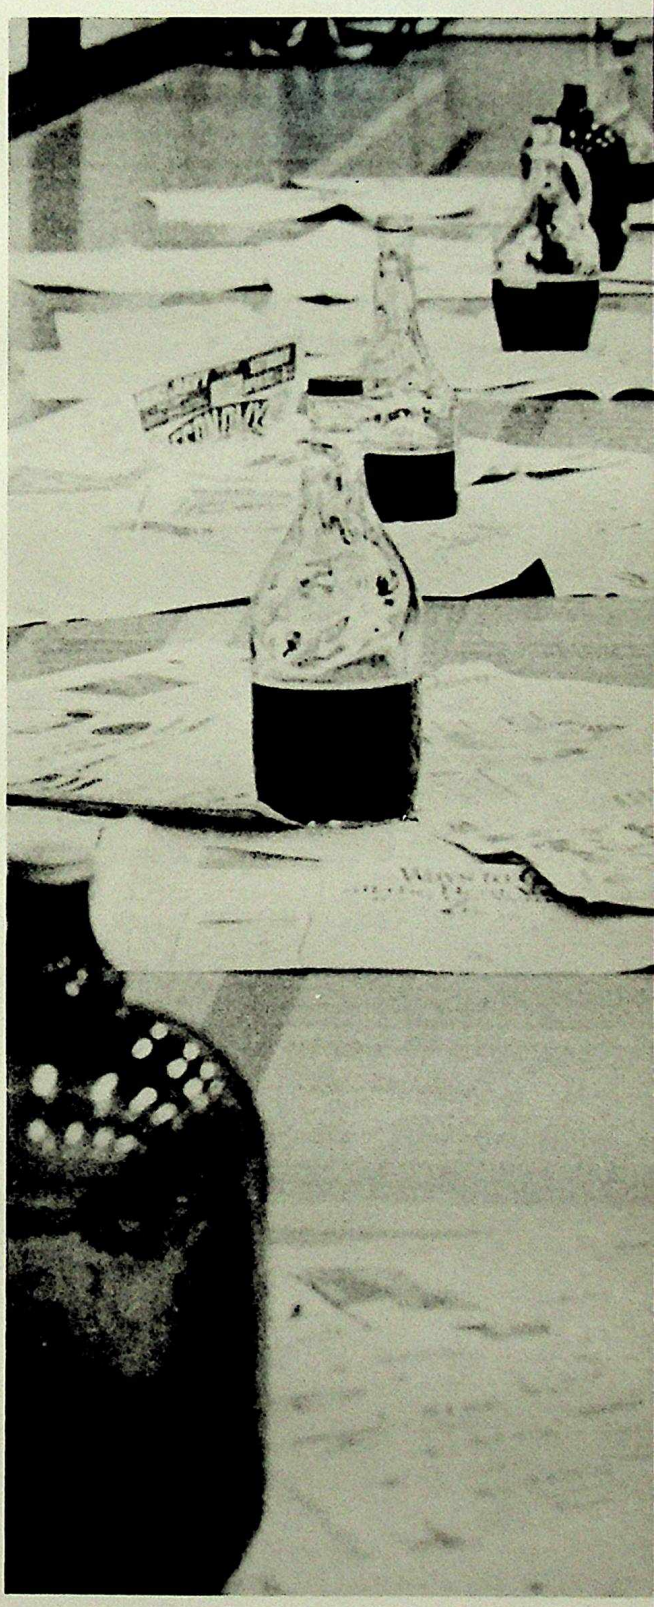
Sadie Hawkins Day

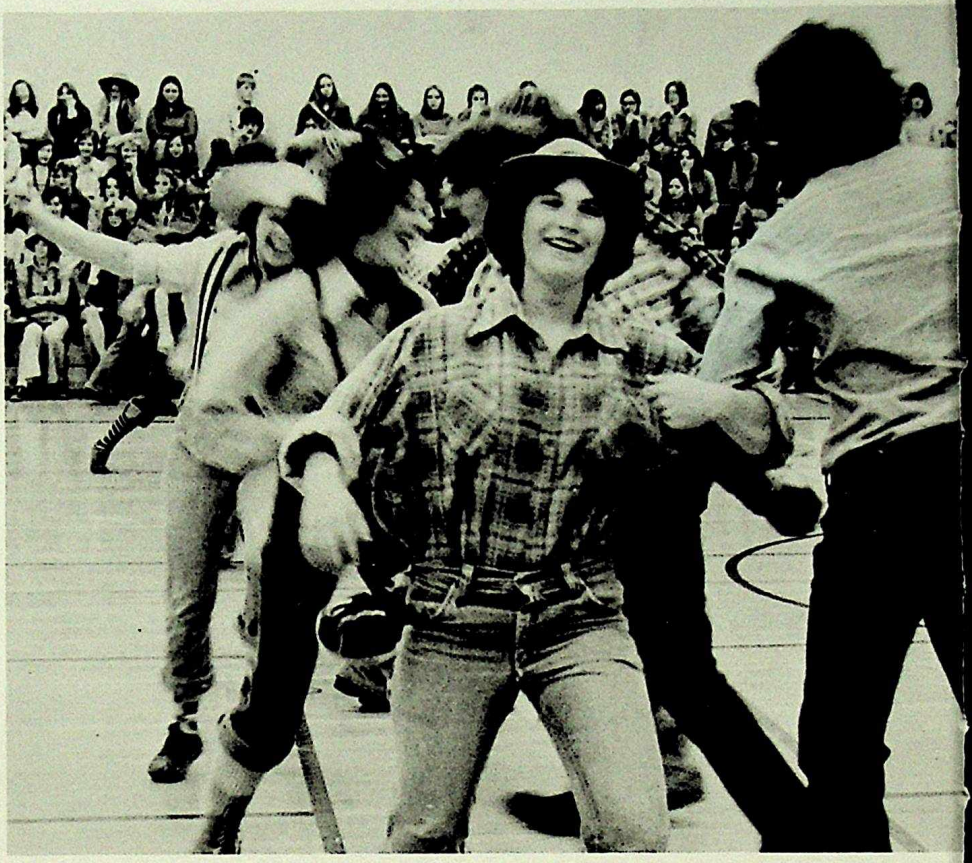


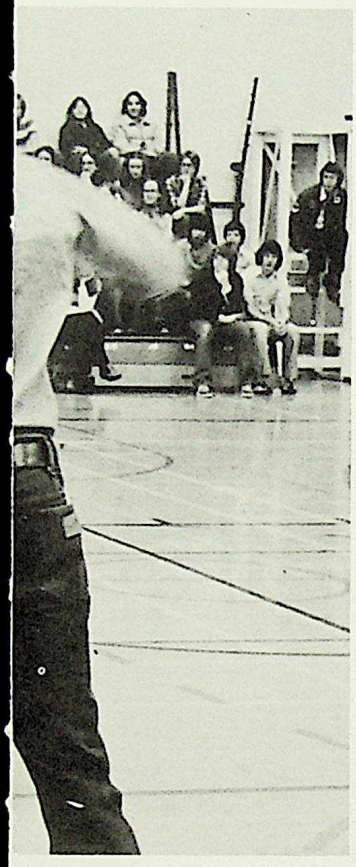


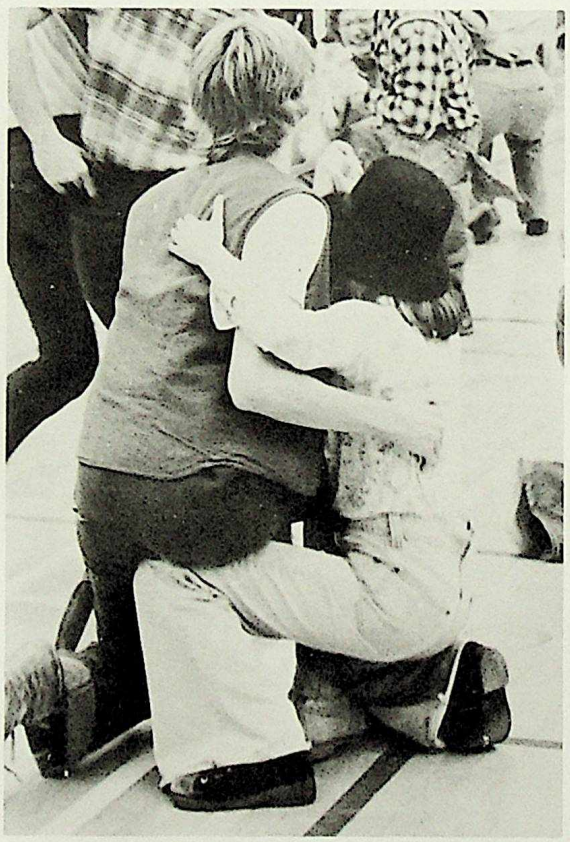


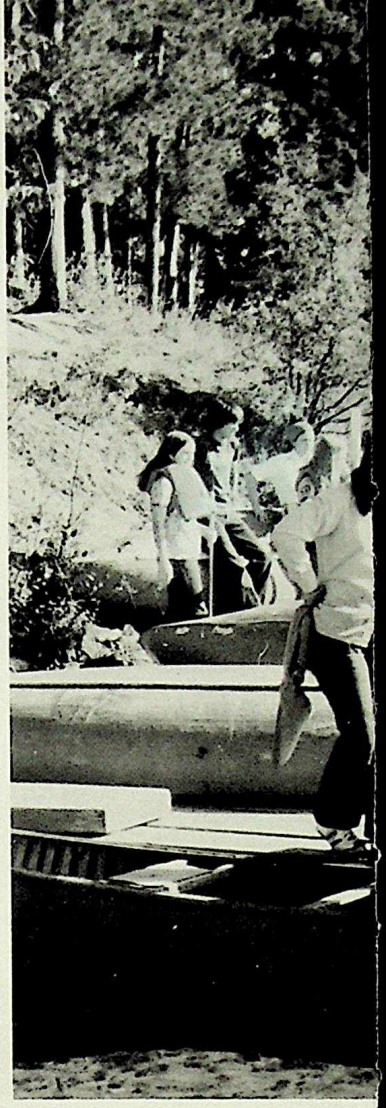
Freckle-bespeckled chicks and straw-hatted, suspender-clad guys roamed the school corridors as Sadie Hawkins.day made its annual appearance at McNally. Chug-a-lug, tug-o'-war, cake baking and a different type of musical chairs added to the excitement of the day. It was a whoop-up affair as the Sadie chicks took their favorite guys to that night's dance.











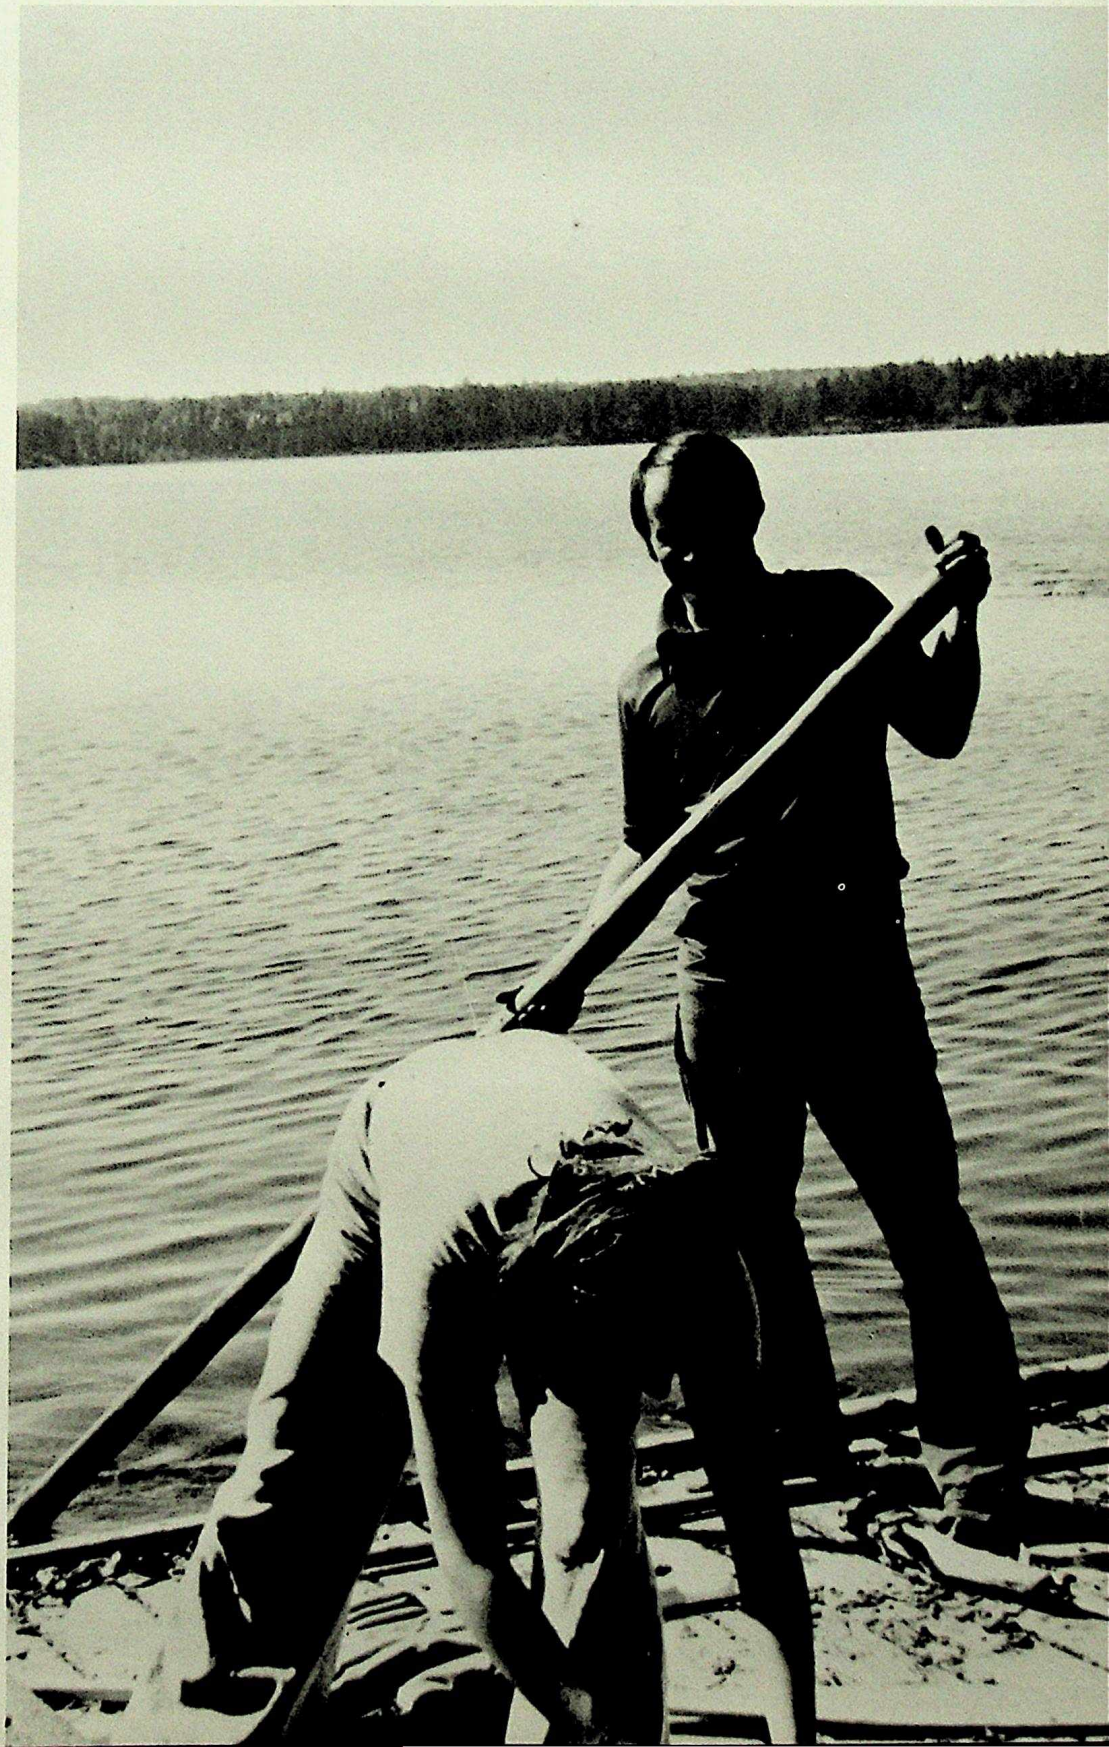
The I.S.C.F. Spirit? There is nothing like a rousing game of bucket ball to start the year off right. Friends, songs and all round warm feelings were with us at the Corn Roast and throughout the year.

Lunch time gathering, including a forum discussing "Why Live," thrilling poster parties, a Christian band, and Beaver's Bible Studies. Also at noon there was the surfing film, "The Sun Seekers," a box office hit.

"Missing Persons," "Sound Scavenger Hunt," and a travelling supper were some of our evening activities. Ask the survivors of our "Ski and Slide" party how many people can fit on an inner tube.

Some of the looks we got at times were unreal, but God isn't; He's very real and this thing is happening right now. Are you in on it?

Inter School Christian Fellowship



Pancake Breakfast

Know of a better way to start our Christmas Lit than to have a pancake breakfast? The breakfast was put on by the Grad Council in hopes of raising money for this year's Grad. The teachers were the chefs, and they must have been good pancake flippers because many students indulged themselves in consuming "them flapjacks swimming in syrup".

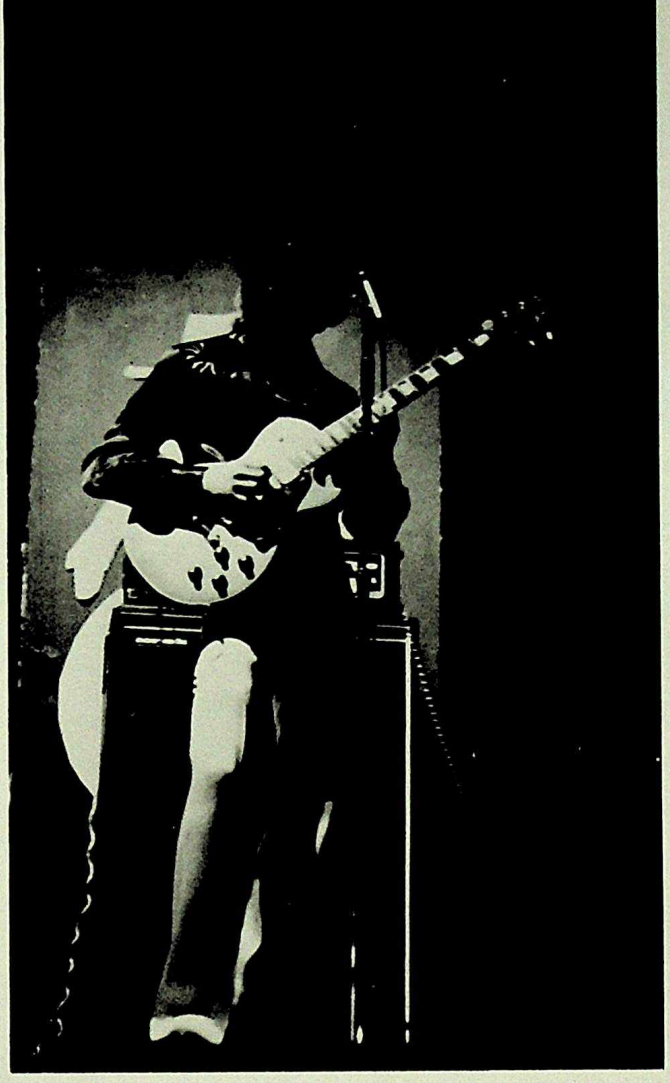
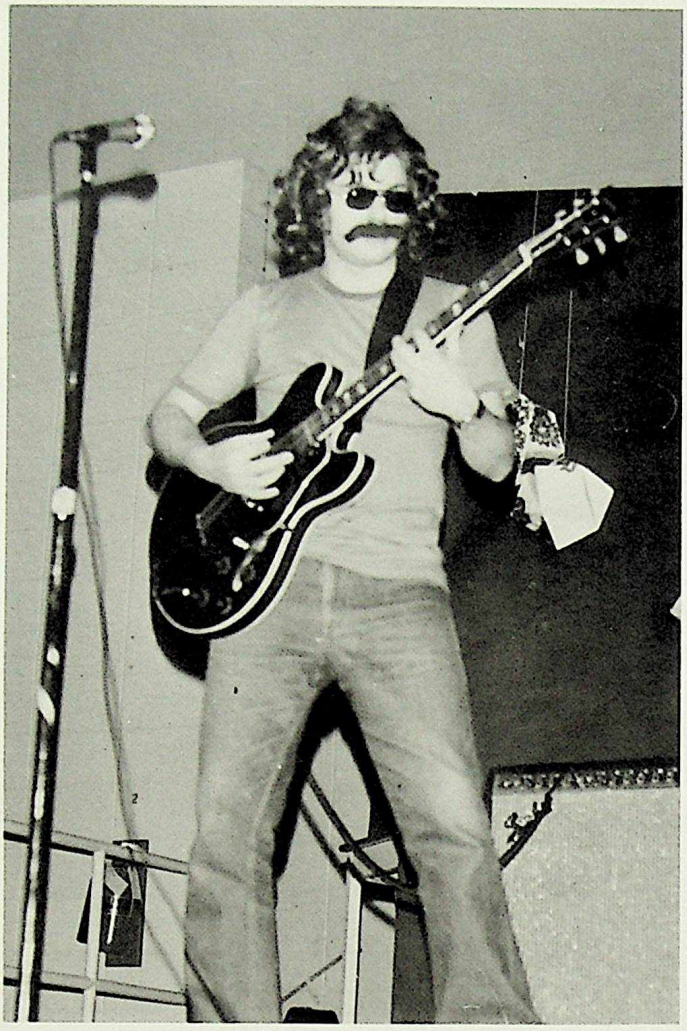
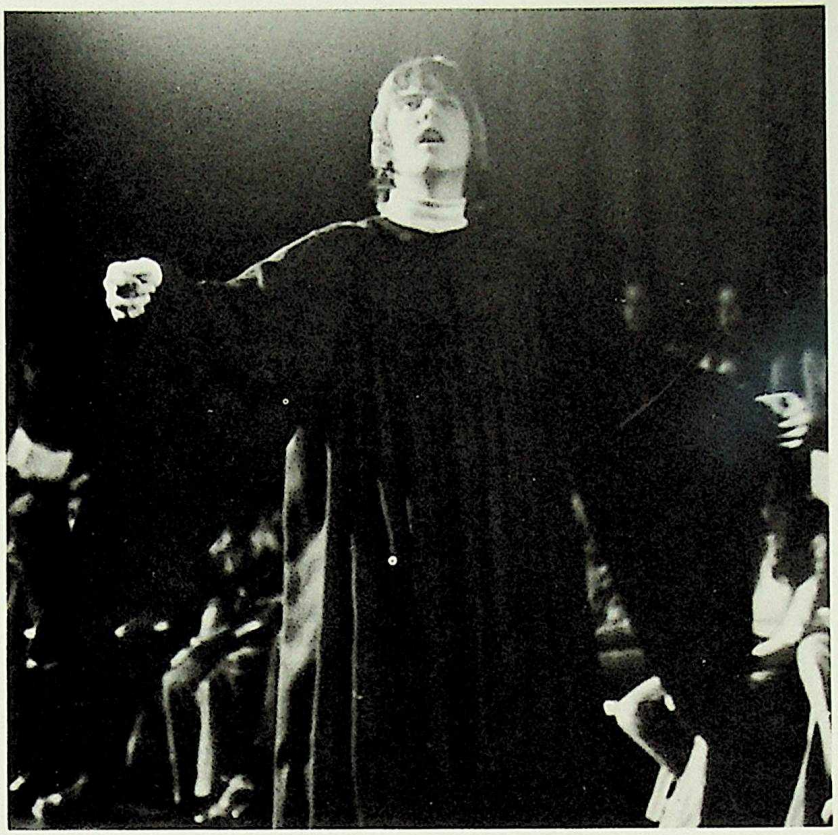
Christmas Lit

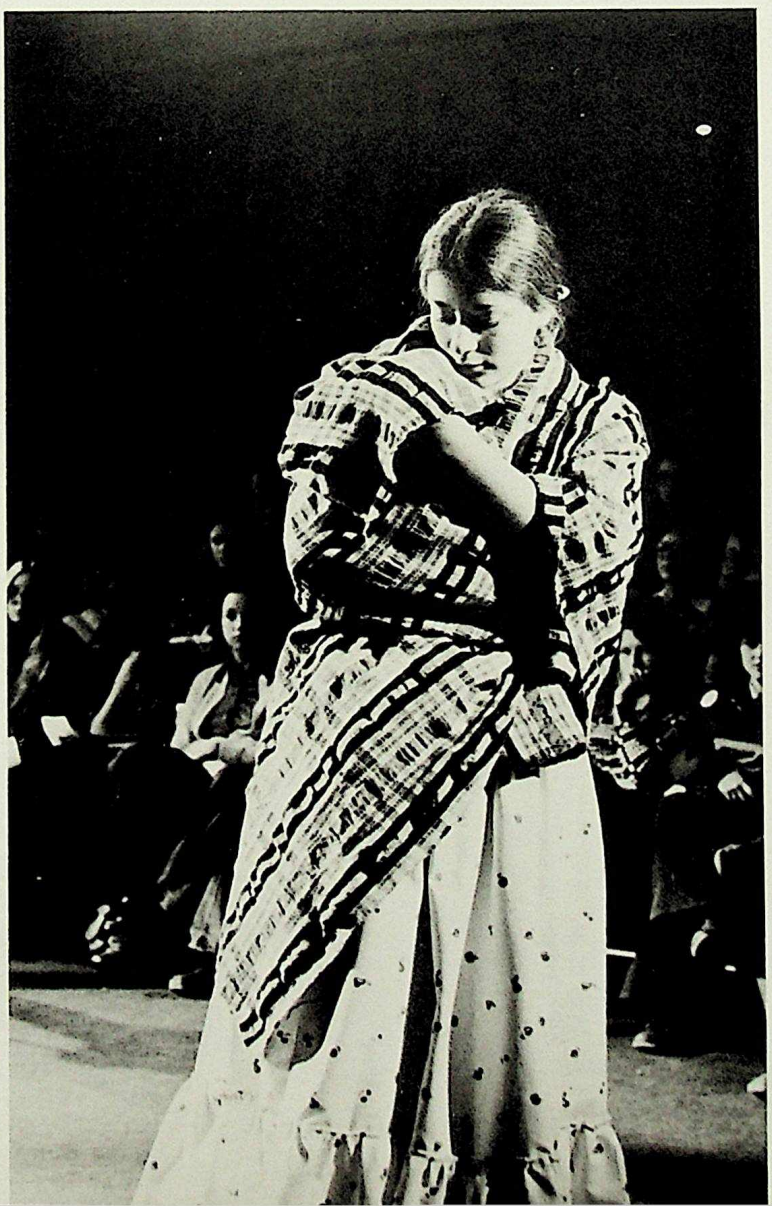


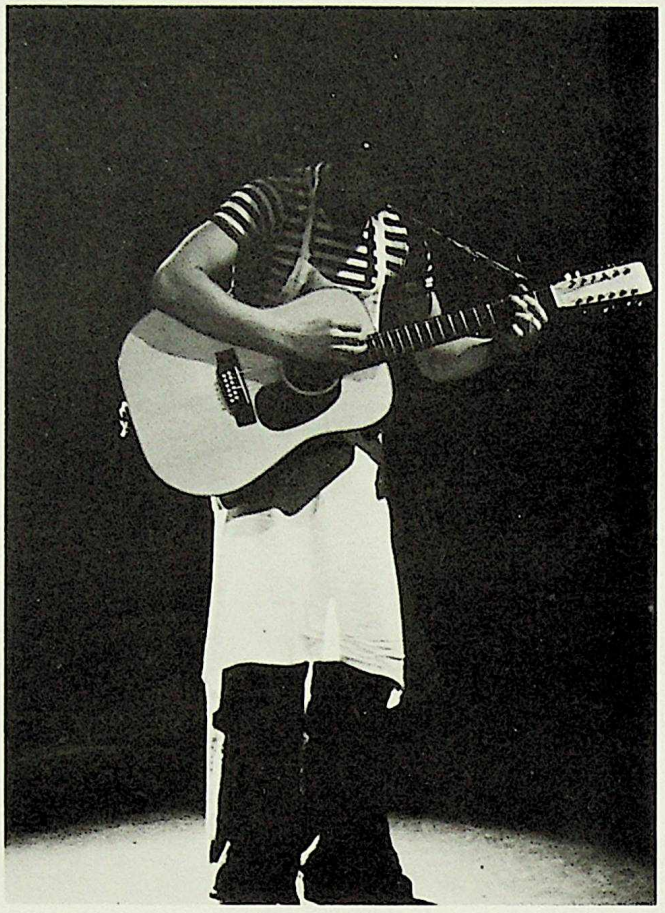
The annual Christmas Lit brought the year to a close with the usual corn and hodge-podge mingled with real talent. The cheerleaders brought us some "fun in the sun" as the Beach Boys; the McNally Stage Band put on a fine performance and Chris Stretch and Bruce Lambert gave us a fantastic rendition of Teach Your Children and Mr. Bo Jangles.



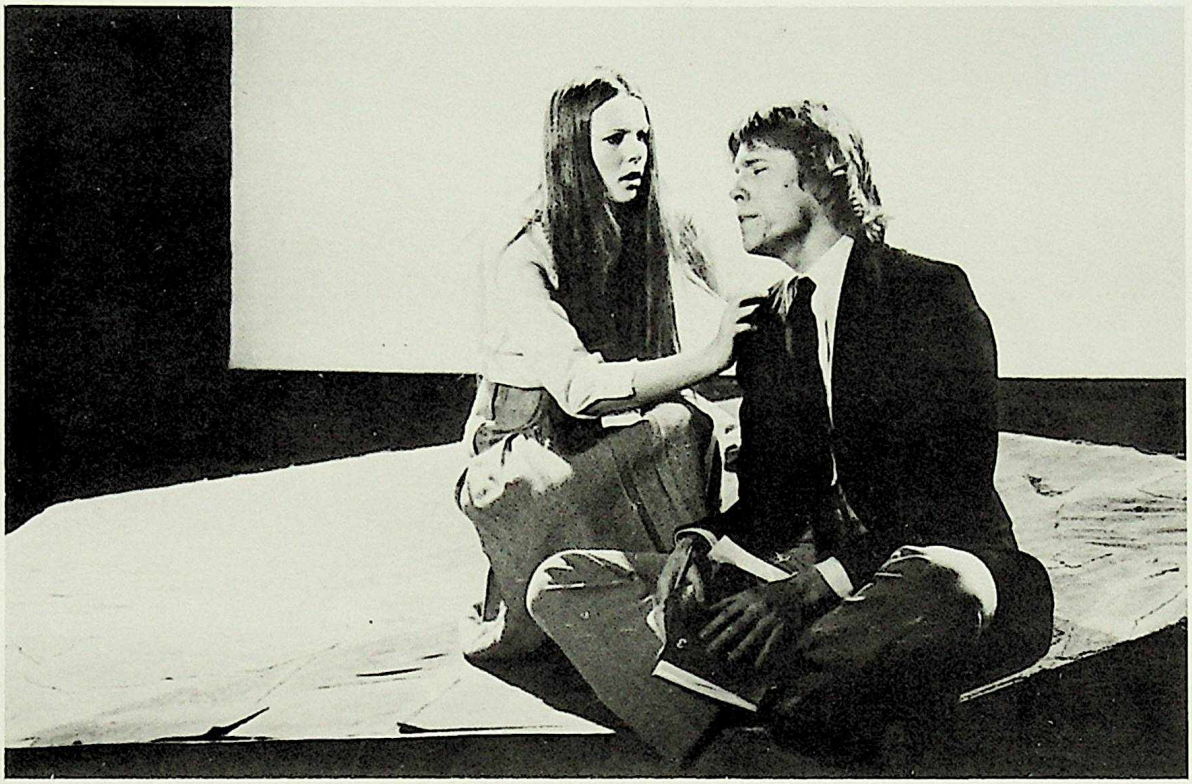
UNDER MILK WOOD

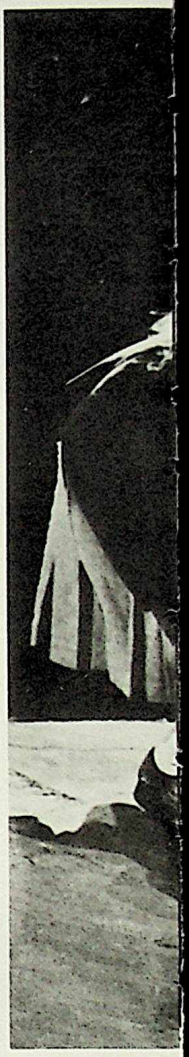






This year, under the direction of Glenys Berry, the drama department presented what was probably their most ambitious undertaking: the double-bill Under Milkwood and Lovers. Milkwood was a fascinating, complex production with scores of actors, lightning fast costume changes and several beautiful songs sung by cast members with equally beautiful voices.





On the other hand using only one setting, two actors and two narrators, Lovers charmed its audience with the simplicity of its story of love and death on an Irish hillside. Joe Colburne and Diane Wedderburn were magnificent as the ill-fated lovers. As we go to publication, the drama department is planning Black Comedy, a hilarious one-act play which promises to be another artistic triumph.

For the yearbook editor and his staff it is a long and arduous season fraught with deadlines, delays, dropouts, retakes, finger printed negatives, foggy developer, recalcitrant assistants, and long lonely hours in the school even after the caretakers have gone.

But then there are the cheerleaders . . . one of the few bright moments for the editors . . . especially when the editors also happen to be the photographers and these lovelies will pose and pose and pose.

More important is the end of the season and the return of the yearbooks from the publisher . . . it's worth it all to see the response of the students and staff as they thumb through THE TREND and sign each other's annuals. I wish to express my sincere thanks to a truly hardworking, competent bunch of kids who did all the work on this year's Trend.

SENIOR CHEERLEADERS

To start the year off right, we hosted a cheering squad from New Westminster, B.C. This was only the beginning of good things to come. Roadtrips to both Stettler and Lethbridge added a little variety to each season and made us even more aware that the guys we cheered for were the greatest. The great times we shared together will be long remembered.

We'll remember special moments special people, special cheers
We'll always remember our High School Days
They were our three best years

Good Luck to next year's squad!

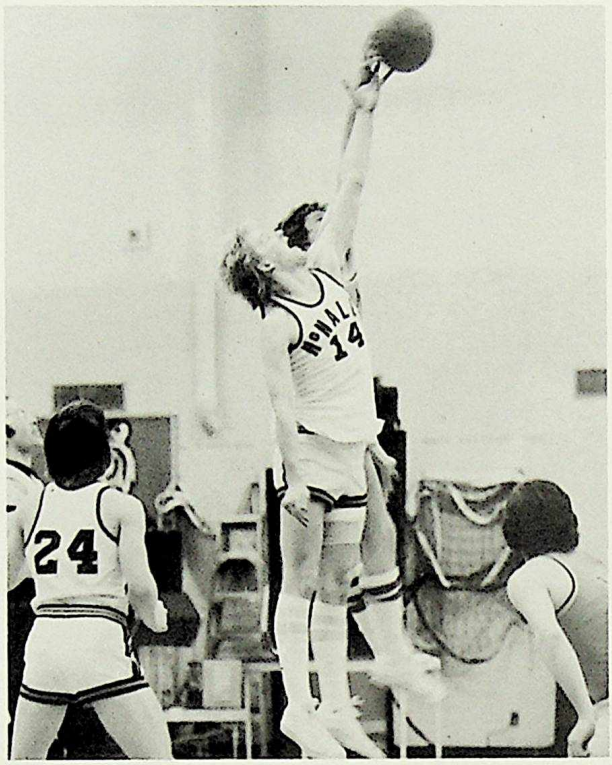
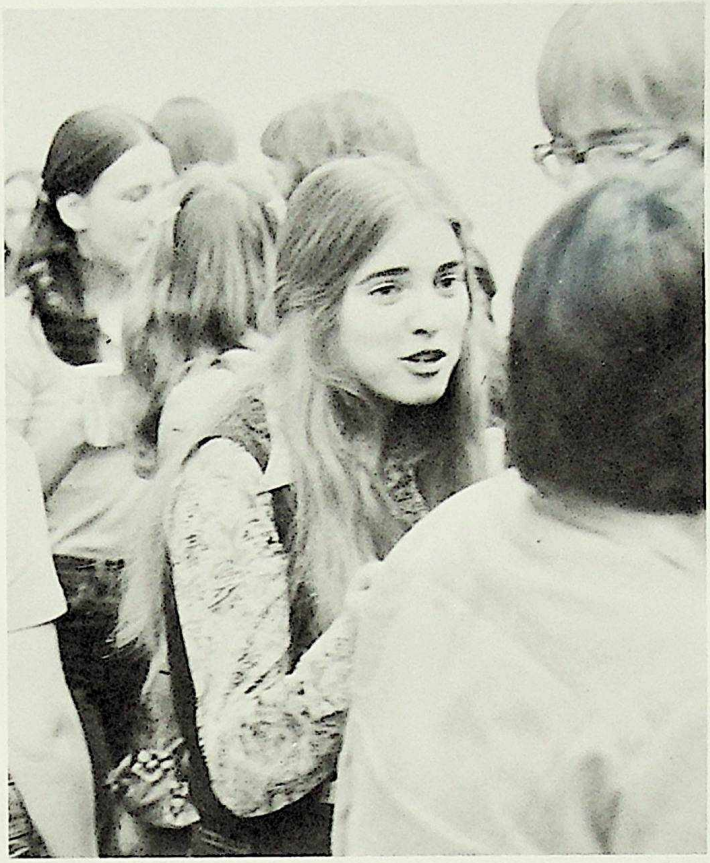
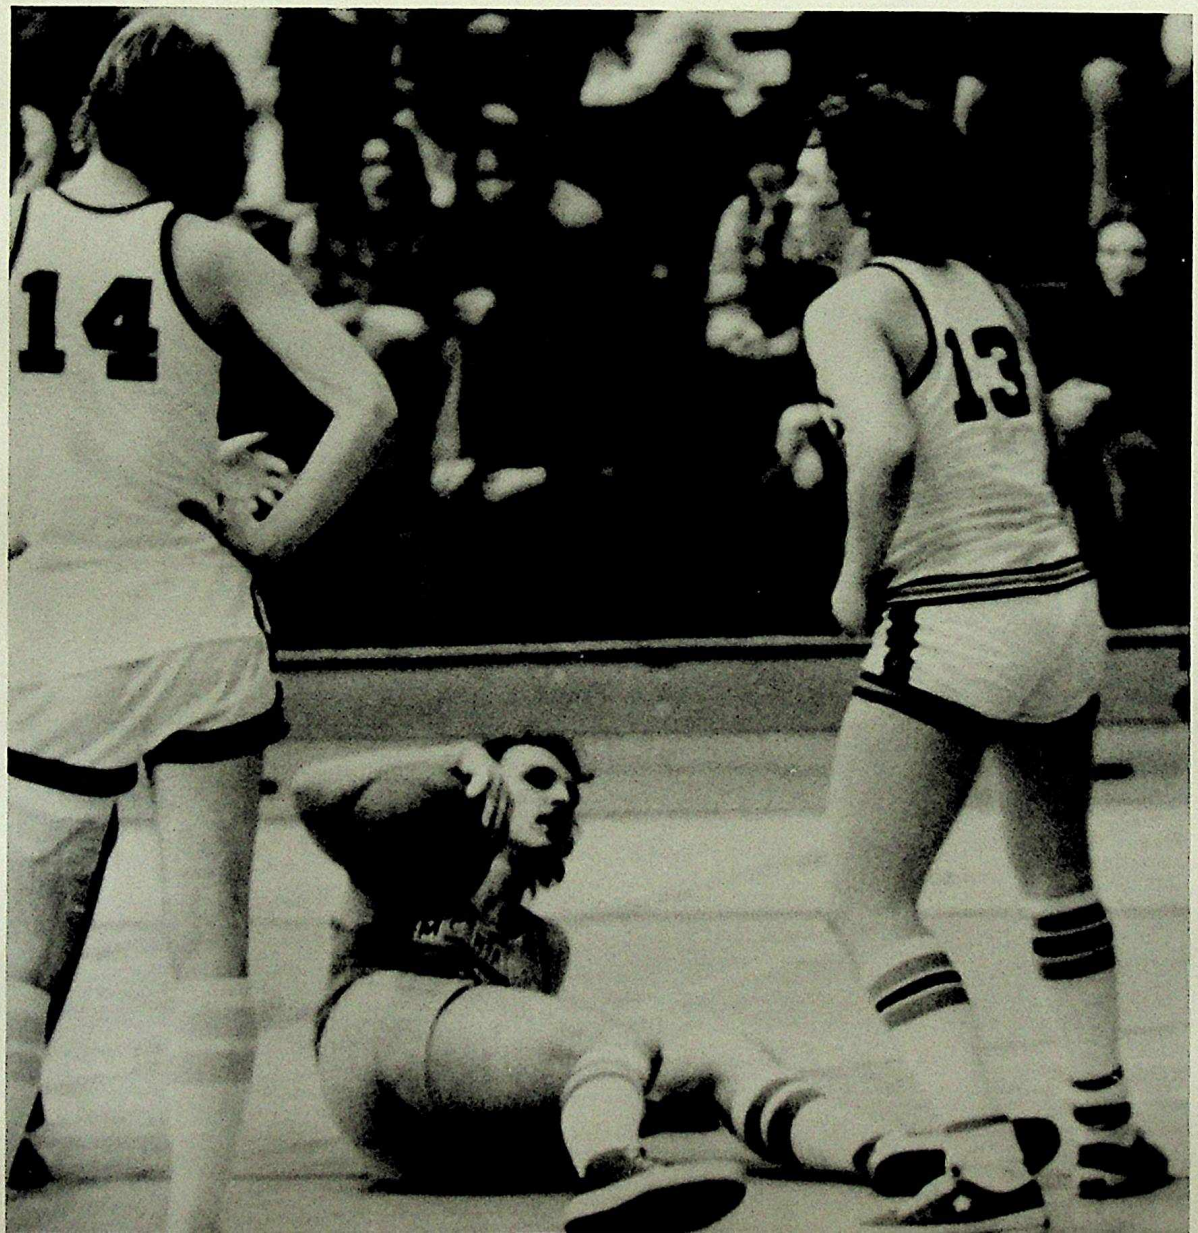
ALUMNI

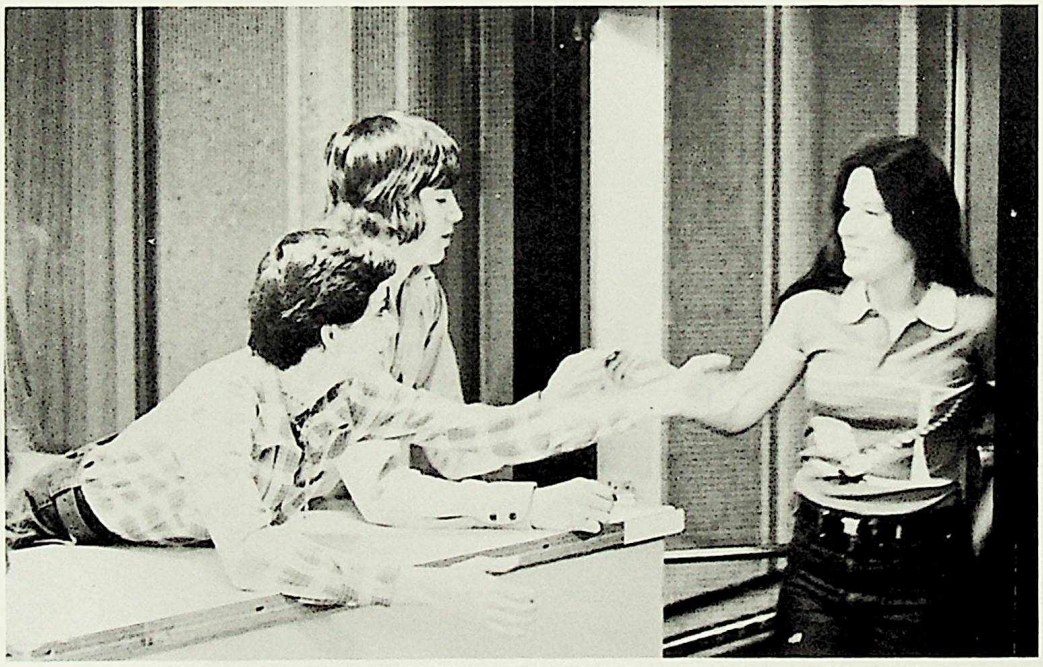


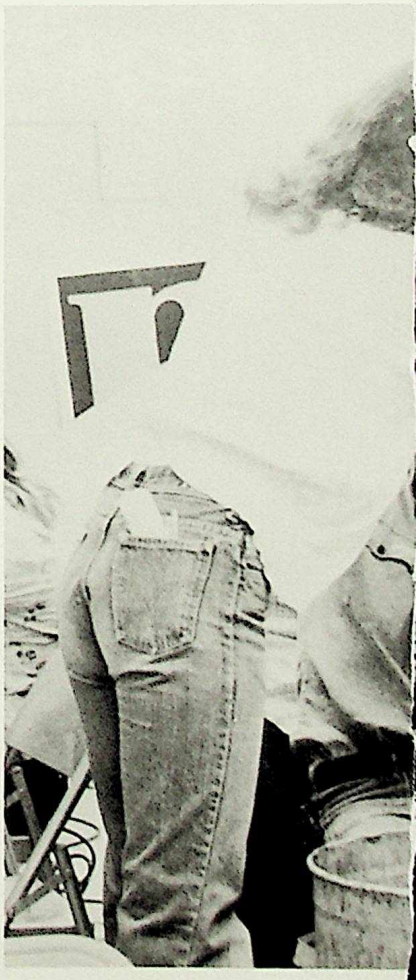


It is not often that the more mature and experienced Alumni team gets pushed around by our Tigers. But this year was an exception; the significantly improvedcaliber of play contributed to a close, high-scoring game, won by the seniors 56-55.

The alumni might have been overshadowed on the court, but they certainly were not too old to dance, and dance they did to an excellent band.







Students' Union

Well Alfred, you thought I wasn't going to get this done, so here it is. For those of you who know me I'll make it perfectly clear from the start that this is not going to be another novel by yours truly, I do however, have some special thanks and encouragement for nine special people whom I have had the pleasure of working with.

Girls first, right! Hey Cathy, Miss Clarke I think that in the future you will have to lose your dependancy on hit-men. What more can I say about Kathy Boyd except she was an ever good secretary . . . and Miss Norma Love I have to say that you surely live up to your name. Speaking of names Colleen, the Bamber dynasty is still alive, outspoken and active as ever. Last but not least of the girls team is Chris Stretch; lady you had the hardest task of us all and you always came up smiling.

Just to make it seem fair the guys don't get out without a few words either. Mr. Epton, yes you Rob, I can't say much about you because you were never available for meetings, I often wonder if you ever leave the gym. Gord Mazurek if you had exerted yourself anymore than the barest minimum the whole school would have benifited; think about it! Mr. Thom, someday Len you are going to make someone a great mother-in-law. Finally Mr. Bill Wood or is it Mr. Geordie Reid, well whichever, you are a couple of great guys; the world is full of beautiful girls so enjoy a few before you die.

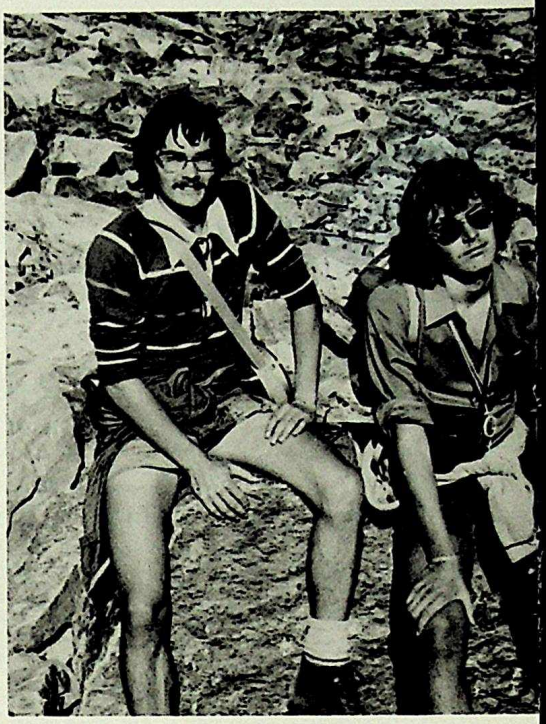
There is someone I forgot though and he answers to Mr. Brian McWilliam if someone tells you he's lost. Man I can't thank you enough for the time and the effort you gave for this cause. I know that sometimes the effort may seem in vain but without you the S.U. would be nothing.

One last thank-you and then I'm done. This one is for Miss Carol Warden who helped me with the frustration and headaches that go with this job just by being there and being herself.

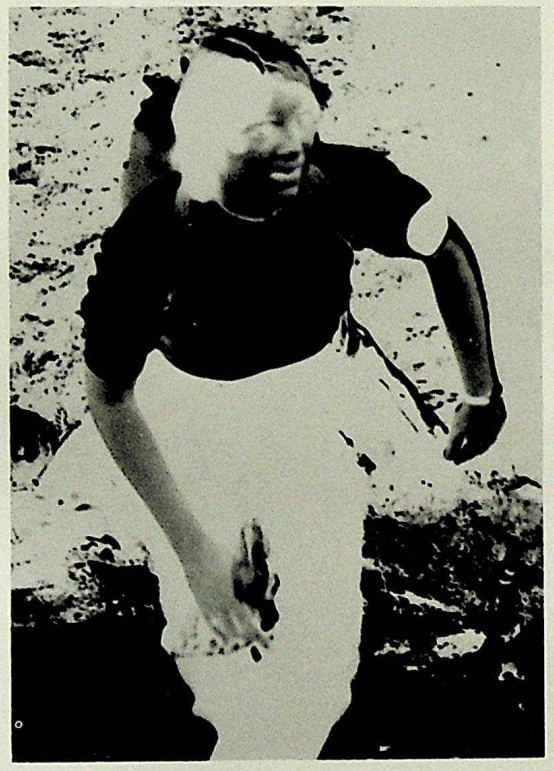
It looks like I haven't run out of thank-yous yet because I thank all the Students' Council people who helped run the activities and especially the dances. I'm only sorry that their involvement seemed to be limited by communication and structural problems.

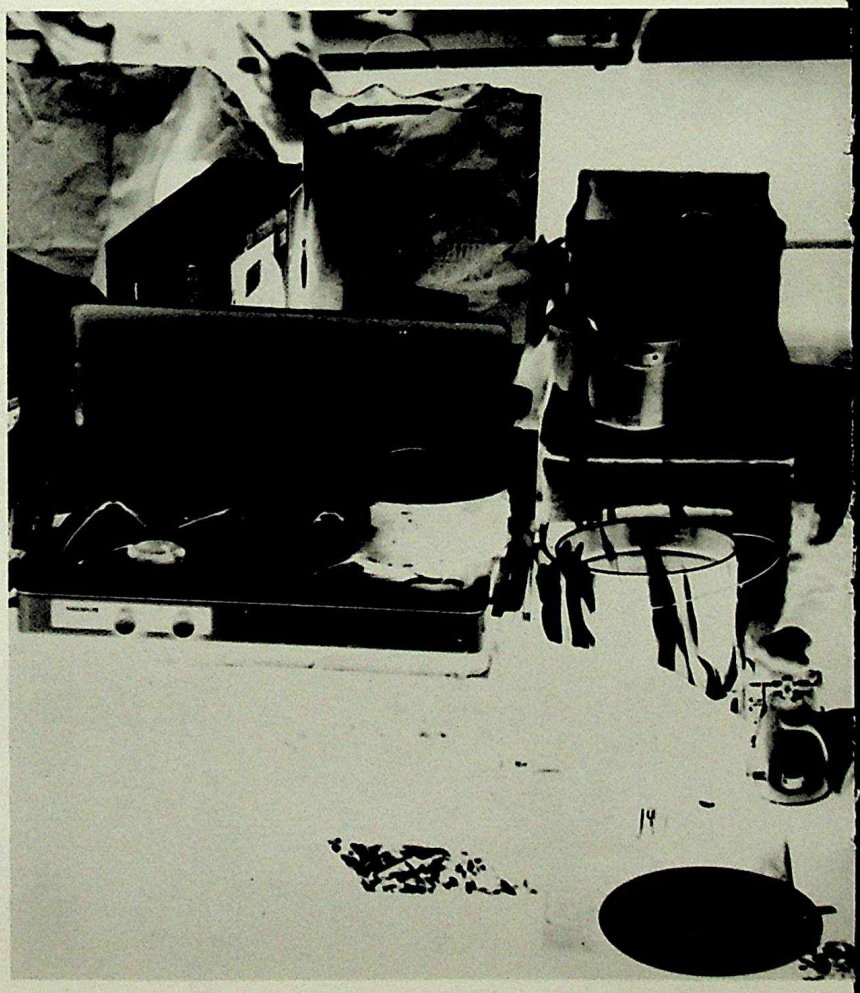
This last bit is directed to all the students in McNally and I hope that you don't take it lightly. People we have to make things happen, we have to get involved and work to keep what we have. Nothing comes for free and this year has shown me that if nothing else. We're still Nothing But the Best!!

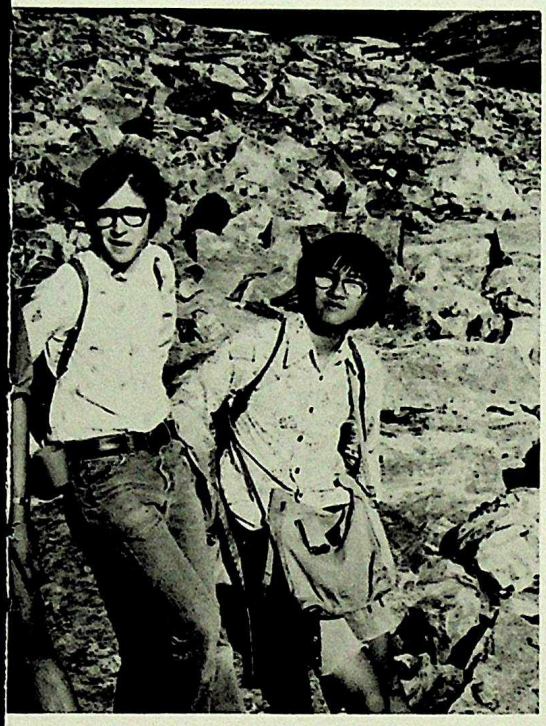
HIKING CLUB

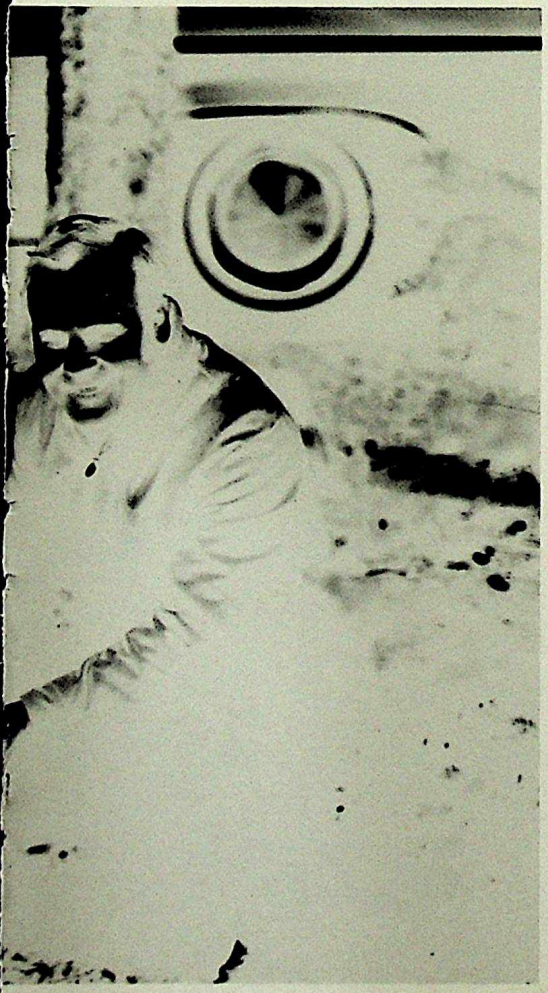


The Hiking Club offers the student to escape from the tensions of urban life and school. During the year the club views slides of various trails and discusses hiking techniques. Two trips to the mountains are planned each year — one in May or June and the other in September. Each hike is staged at one of the many secenid spots in the National Parks. Some places visited by the club in the past are Wenkchemna Pass, Eiffel Lake, Signal Mountain summit, the Valley of the Five Lakes, Lake Louise, Moraine Lake, Beaver Lake, Mistaya Canyon and many others.









THE CANADIAN

I am a Canadian:
Red and white like our flag,
Red and white like the faces of my brothers.

I've been an Indian:
I smoked a pipe with Eric the Red,
I shook hands with John A.

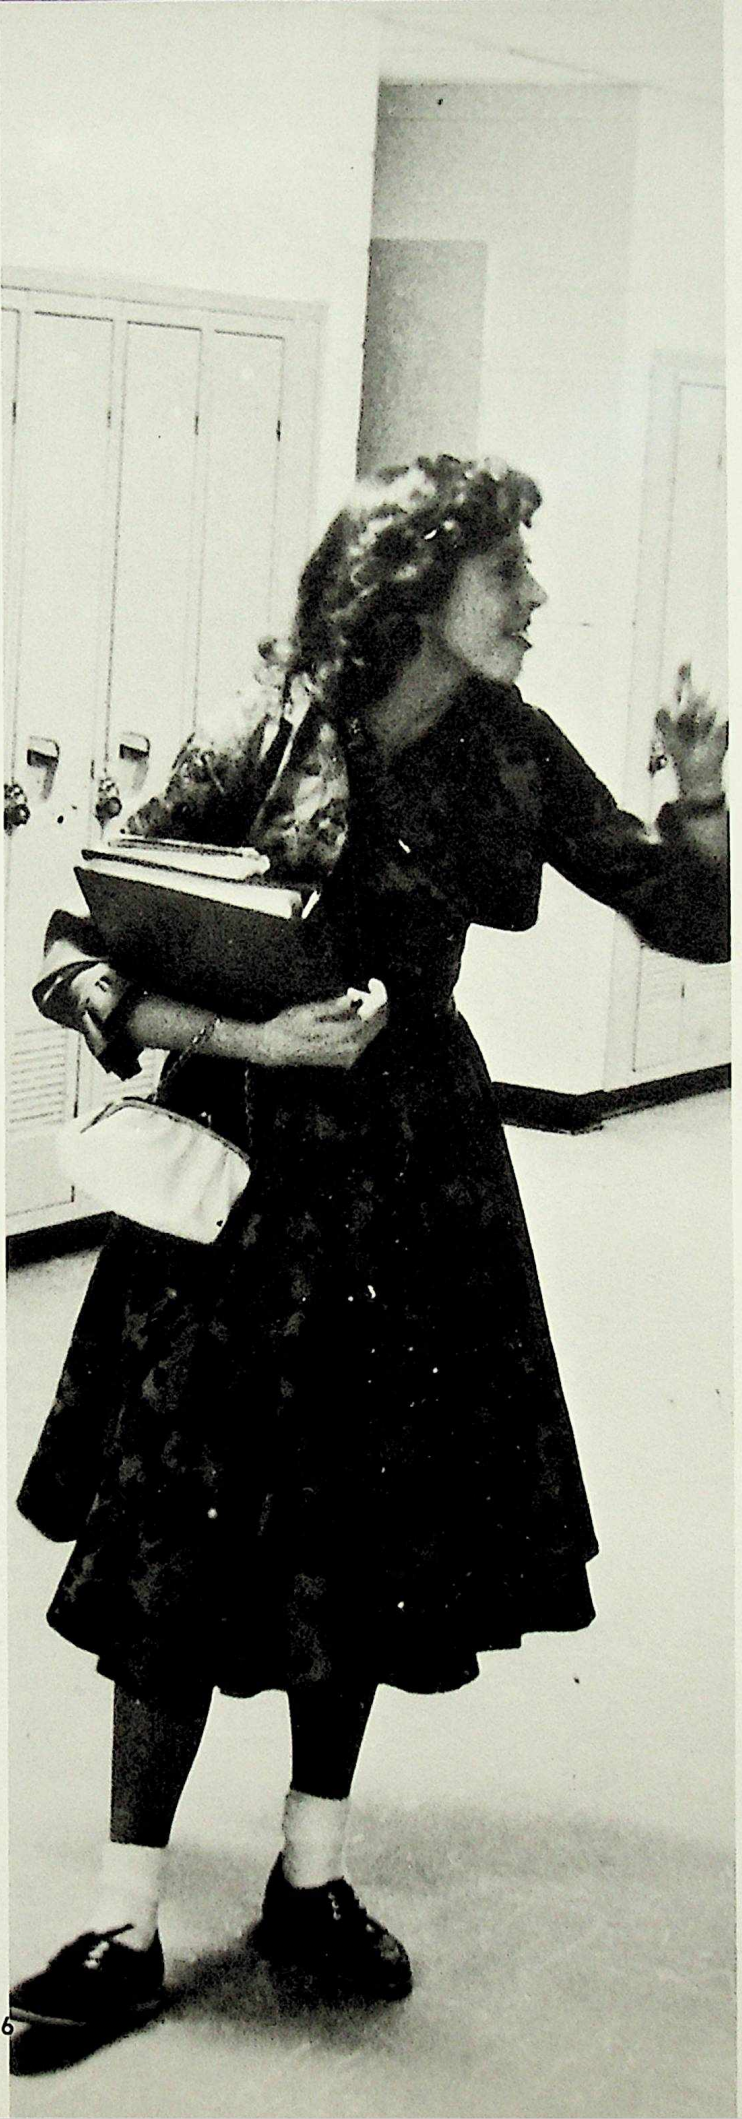
I've been an Eskimo:
Under my hand the strait was crossed.
I killed the whale for the blubber.

I've been an adventurer:
From the Atlantic to Pacific.
I have many scars.
I made a nation.

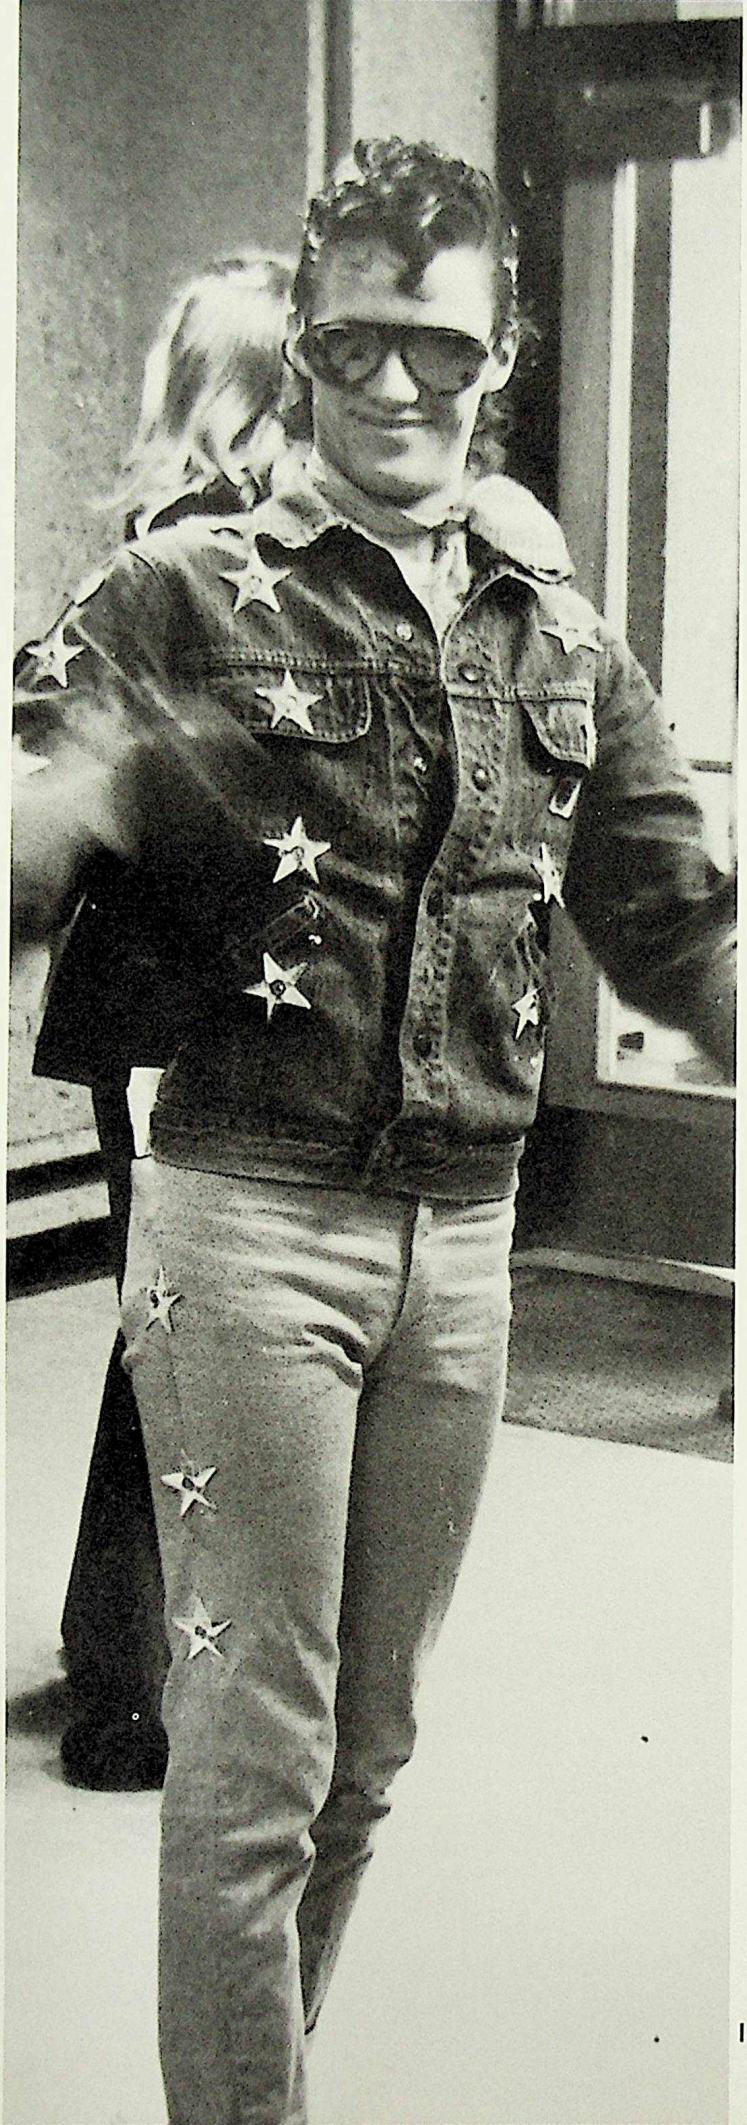
I've been a fighter:
I reddened the Plains of Abraham.
I landed at Dieppe.

I am a Canadian:
Red and white like our flag,
Red and white like the faces of my brothers.

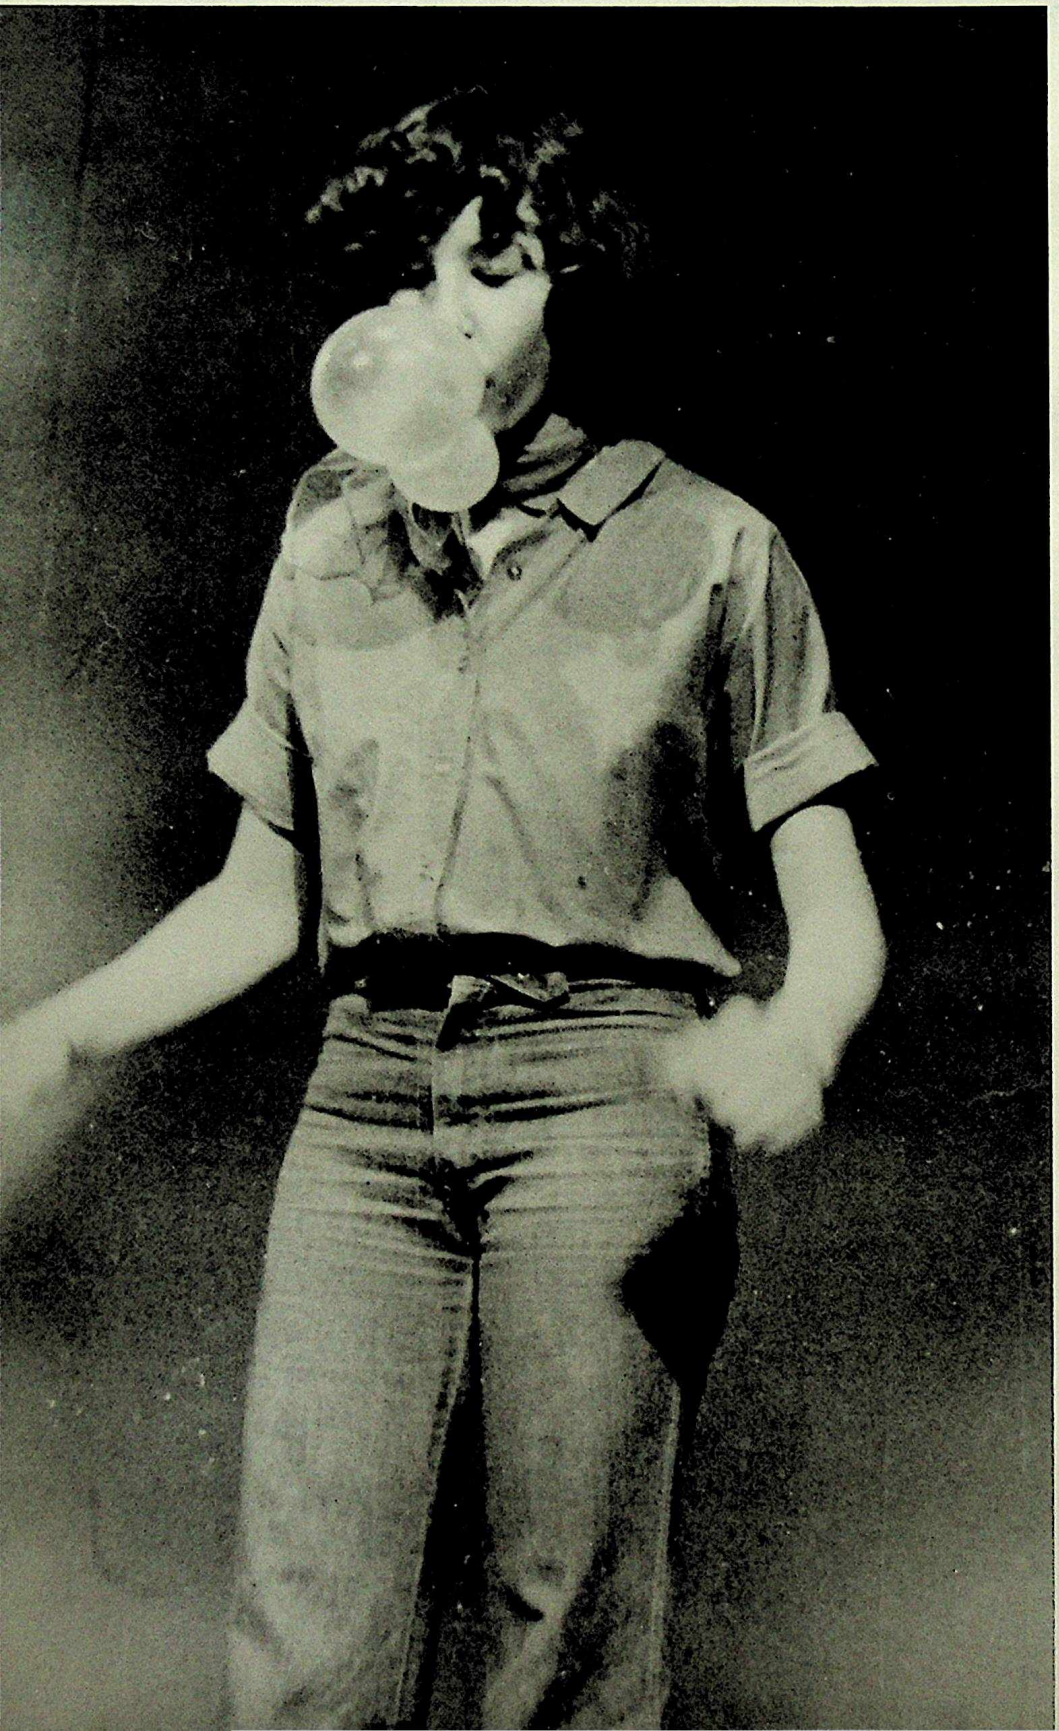
Ingrid Enhagen

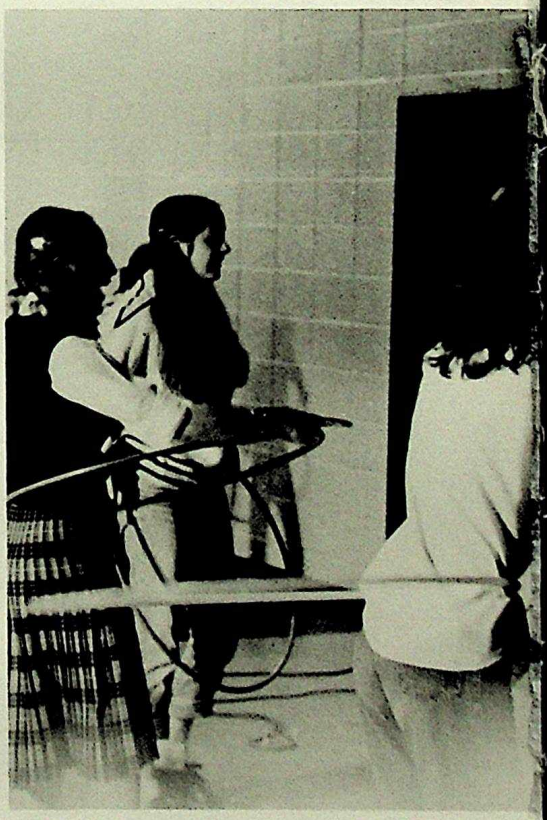


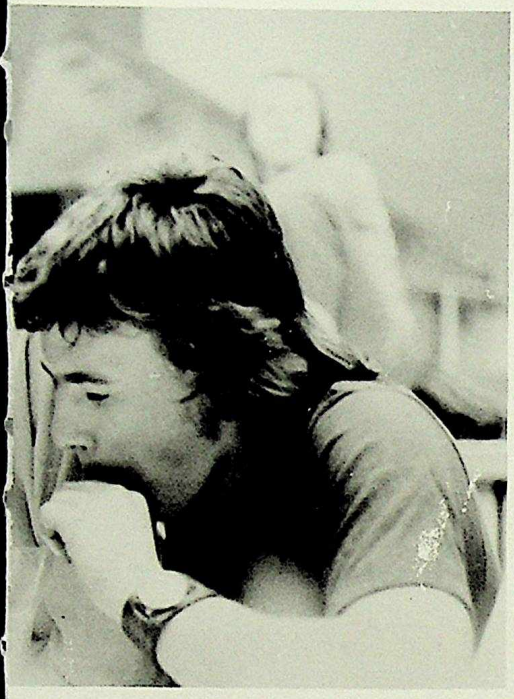
Get out your boobie socks, hula hoops, Brylcream and bubble gum. The greasers are coming! Yes sir! Everyone was at McNally, from the Fonzies right down to the nerds.



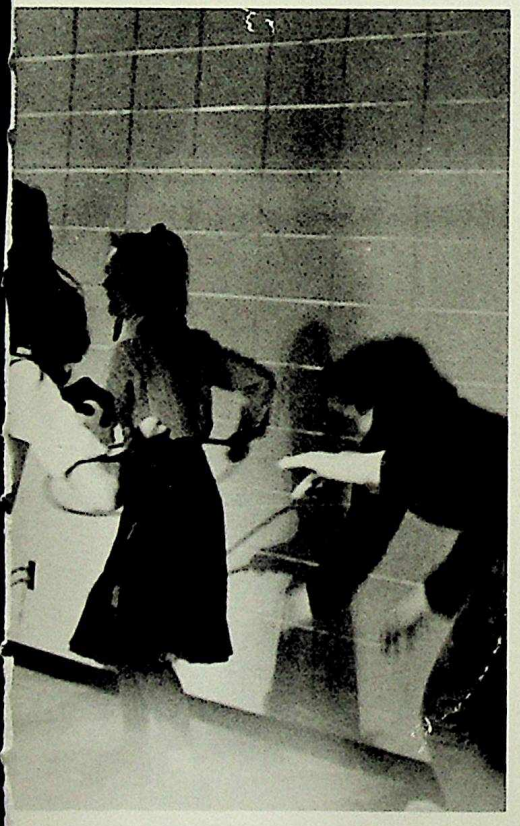
Grease

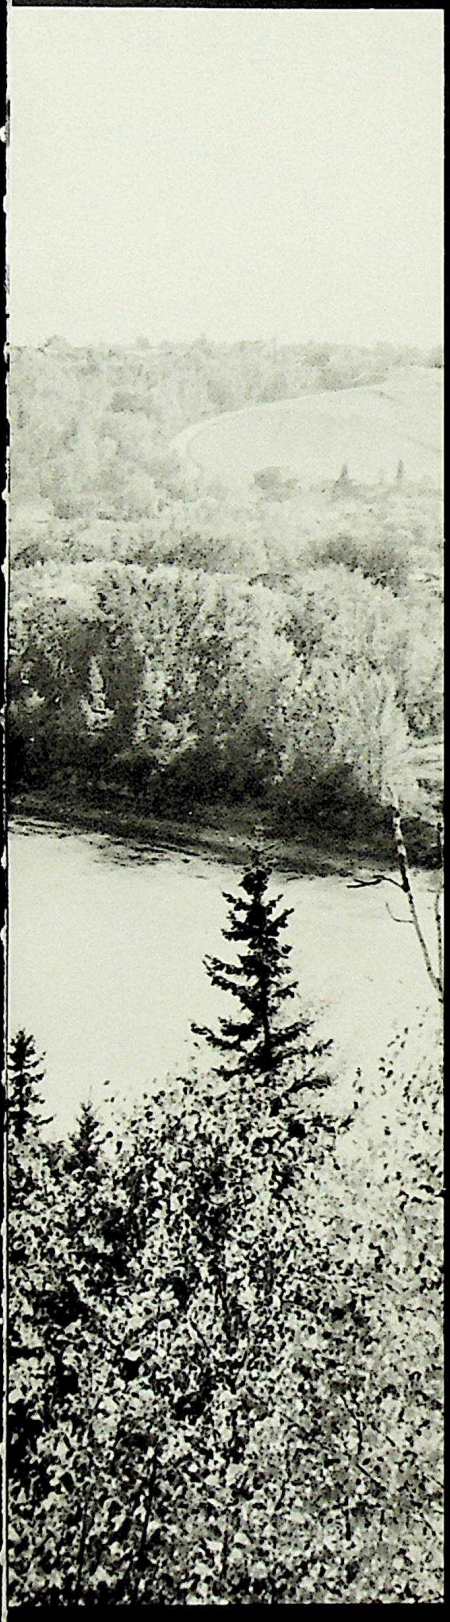






Students flocked to the gym to watch bubble gum chewers, hula hoopers and yes, watch a girl win the Fonzie look-a-like contest.





GOLD

Blazing brightly walks the sun,
Across the sky, till day is done;
On towering mountains and heaving seas,
She casts her gold on all she sees.
Changing leaves from green to gold,
Summer goes from new to old.
A young girl stops, and lowers her head
To sniff the scent of golden flowers arranged in beds.
The sun casts warmth all around,
On golden beaches and golden ground.
Blazing the sun with the rain,
Turns to gold, vast fields of grain.
And with a golden gleam in their eyes,
Young men watch golden girls walk by.

DAVE MAZUREK

GOLD

Hot and blazing the summer sun
Burns across its daily run;
Glaring down it turns to gold
Autumn leaves that crinkle and fold.
Shadows bend round golden trees,
And flowers open to honey bees.
Pretty girls with golden hair
Tan golden brown their long legs bare,
And boys watch them from the shade,
Drink Molson Golden, and just feel great.
Gold-tipped waxwings fly overhead;
Land in trees and rest instead
All around — A golden day
I think I'll forget about school today.

BILL WOOD

Apologies to Walter de la Mare

BOYS' JUNIOR VOLLEYBALL

Many congratulations go out to Daryl Nixon for coaching the McNally Junior Boys' Volleyball Team to the City Championship this year. The team began as an inexperienced group of young students and finished the season as a polished group of mature athletes. The players should be congratulated for their many hours of hard work and effort.

BOYS' SENIOR VOLLEYBALL

This was one of those rebuilding years for the Senior Boys' Volleyball Team. We had only four grade 12's on the team with no first string returnees. Also two grade 10 players made the senior team this year, with five or six players coming back and with the Junior team winning the City Championship our Senior Boys' Volleyball team should have a good year next year.

Have You Seen 317?

317 is where we have our neat clothes, at the Bay. It's where you'll find loads of denim, cords and tops. The clothes that look good on your body. Long wearing clothes that get better with age! Get your body into dynamite denim or hip huggin' cords. Top it all off with a funky shirt or sweater. 317 is unisex . . . because everyone likes to look great! And we've got great clothes . . . lots of them . . . in 317, all 3 stores.

We greatly appreciate the services and support of every contributor to the TREND without whose co-operation together with the efforts of our advertising personnel; the TREND would not be a success.

The TREND Staff

FOR EVERYTHING, THERE IS A SEASON . . .

The summer has ebbed away, the nights are gradually lengthening. School resumes again and people gather and talk of the summer, the people they have met, the places they have gone . . . or they quietly sit and contemplate.

Minutes tick away turning into hours and days, weeks and months. The warm winds of summer slowly turn into the cool winds of Autumn. The first snow covers the grass, footprints appear in the virgin snow, the product of last summer romp. More snow comes and covers the grass. Time slows and seems to take forever to pass. Then, suddenly the snow disappears, life is renewed, spirits are renewed and spring is here.

The days lengthen the ground dries and the birds once more grace us with their songs of love, Bodies once more appear, strewn upon the lawn, laying around, enjoying the warmth of a returning summer. The year has past, sometimes painfully slow, sometimes frustratingly fast.

Another school year will soon come to an end,
Not all events or happenings have been remembered, but when they are recorded on paper they will be remembered.
For in the future, the past,
it will be there, for everyone,
when we want it.
We can look back and say to our sons and daughters,
"That was the time when I was . . ."
or just to thumb through the annual when we're alone or with friends,
and reflect on all the memories,
good and bad.

To everything there is a season:
a season for meeting,
a season for working,
a season for relaxation,
a season for friendship,
a season for happiness,

"To everything there is a season" is the theme of the '76 TREND for whatever the season, these memories have been experienced by each and everyone.
